Half-Hurricane, Half-Tornado A 'Neutercane'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Thanks to a sharp-eyed satellite, hurricane forecasters have identified a breed of sea-going storm. Half hurricane and half-tornado, it's been dubbed a "neutercane."

The National Hurricane Center in Miami issued the first warning on the mermaid of marine storms Thursday. It said Neutercane Bravo was located over the North Atlantic 600 miles northeast of Bermuda.

Packing winds of only 40 miles per hour and moving along at 10 m.p.h., Bravo seemed an unlikely candidate for landfall, however.

"There is no potential for rapid development," said forecaster Joe Pellissier. "There is a chance, however, that it could evolve into a hurricane or tropical storm."

Before the advent of weather satellites, neutercanes were lumped in with cyclones and tropical storms. The ATSS satellite changed all that when weathermen got a chance to see detailed pictures of the ocean.

Neutercanes are smaller than hurricanes, have a different energy source and travel different areas of the ocean, according to center director Dr. Robert Simpson.

"Its identity as a circular storm often less than 100 miles in diameter ordinarily would go undetected except for satellite pictures," he said. "As a marine storm... it generally remains at sea, a threat only to shipping in its path."

Alpha, the first in the June-to-November neutercane season, carried gale force winds to Georgia May 27 but went largely ignored because it struck an unpopulated area.

The neutercane season will mean a whole new list of names for forecasters, who are used to tagging storms with female monikers.

Charlie is next up on the phonetic alphabet list, which caused at least one forecaster some unease.

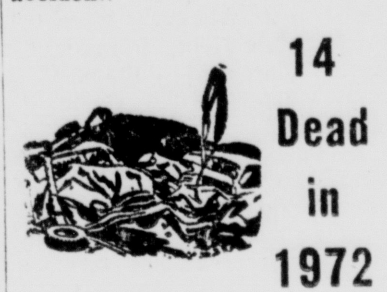

"That's kind of bad," he said, adding the idea of a "himi-cane" might create the impression "we are giving in to Women's Lib."

"But if it gets to No. 10 — Juliet — I think I'll resign," he quipped.

Pedestrian Is 14th In County Traffic Toll

Highway Patrolman J. R. Neff is continuing his investigation into an accident late Thursday which caused the death of a 55-year-old Mt. Gilead man.

The victim, Walker Prichard, became the fourteenth person to die in Pickaway County as a result of a motor vehicle accident.

Ptl. Neff reported Prichard was struck about 9:11 p.m. yesterday while crossing Route 23's northbound lanes near the 84 Lumber Co.

The car which struck Prichard was operated by a 21-year-old Columbus man, Thomas L. Knepper. Knepper told officials he was headed toward Columbus in the passing lane of Route 23 when he hit the pedestrian who had almost reached the median strip.

THE older man's body was thrown on the hood of Knepper's auto by the impact and was carried there for over 100 feet before falling off. The car continued out of control and spun around in the roadway before Knepper was able to stop it and back into a crossover.

Prichard was a native of Lincoln County, W. Va., where he was born Feb. 18, 1917 to Dow and Dovie Streets Prichard.

Among his survivors are three sons, William Prichard, Elyria, Roger Prichard, Huntington, W. Va., Walker Prichard, Mt. Gilead; three daughters, Mrs. Linda Tomblin, Lorraine, Mrs. Jane Tomblin, Lorraine and Miss Garnet Prichard, Huntington, W. Va.

He is also survived by six grandchildren four brothers and two sisters.

Local arrangements were directed by Defenbaugh Funeral Home with the funeral and burial in Mt. Gilead.

Legion Card No. 1 Stolen By Pickpocket

CHICAGO (AP) — When a pickpocket lifted John J. Wicker's wallet shortly after the World War I veteran arrived from Richmond, Va., for the American Legion convention, he got $100 in cash, a few travelers' checks and the first Legion card ever issued.

Wicker, 78, a past national commander of the Legion, had just stepped off a bus from O'Hare International Airport when his wallet was stolen. Wicker's wife said Wednesday.

President Predicts Big Victory

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Predicting he will win the November election "twice as big" as in 1968, President Nixon says he wants four more White House years to pursue what he terms a "breakthrough for peace" in dealings with Peking and Moscow.

Nixon spanned the continent Thursday — just hours after accepting renomination by the Republican party at Miami Beach. It quickly became apparent that the convention chant of "Four More Years" will be the official litany if not the announced slogan of his drive to defeat his Democratic opponent, Sen. George McGovern.

Arriving at the Western White House here after dark, Nixon told several thousand devoted well-wishers from Southern California communities where he has lived or studied: "Why do we want four more years? So we can continue to make this breakthrough for peace. I think I have learned how to negotiate. I think I know what we want and what they want. I think I know what steps can be taken. I know that we have to be strong, and yet I know that we have to negotiate."

Before helicoptering to his seaside villa, he recalled to a jubilant throng in San Diego that after his nomination four years ago he had immediately gone to San Diego from Miami Beach.

"This crowd is twice as large as we had in 1968 and we're going to win twice as big in 1972," he declared.

The crowd began chanting, "Four more years! Four more years!"

Nixon, who had spoken earlier in Chicago and in a Detroit suburb, lost no time in directly challenging McGovern on two key campaign issues: defense and busing policies.

Before the American Legion in Chicago, he didn't mention McGovern by name but said if his opponent's defense economies were carried out the

Price Support Hike Followed Contribution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Large campaign contributions by dairymen's organizations to President Nixon's re-election campaign helped influence a decision to raise 1971 federal milk price supports, according to letters uncovered in a lawsuit and reported today by The Washington Post.

Reports of the timing of the campaign contributions with a decision to increase federal milk price supports from $4.66 to $4.93 per hundredweight on March 25, 1971, had been published previously. The decision reversed an earlier announcement on March 13 that price supports would not be increased.

The Post said its information shows that officials of one large dairymen's organization believe their contributions helped bring about the reversal on the price supports, which increased total support payments to the industry by as much as $700 million.

The Post said it obtained information from letters in connection with a lawsuit brought by the National Farmers Organization against major national dairy cooperatives.

It also said NFO attorney Ward Rowley has forwarded the letters to Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst with the statement that "this material... seems to raise the most serious questions of violation of federal criminal statutes."

A spokesman for the Justice Department said the material is under study. A Senate Judiciary subcommittee also has copies of the letters.

One letter, from William A. Powell, president of Mid-America Dairyman, Inc., which contributed $65,000 to Republican coffers, said:

"The facts of life are that the economic welfare of dairymen does depend a great deal on political action. If dairymen are to receive their fairshare of the governmental financial pie that we all pay for, we must have friends in government."

Nixon War Maker, Agnew Divider, Shriver Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — In a full-scale onslaught on the Nixon-Agnew administration, Democratic vice presidential candidate Sargent Shriver has called President Nixon the world's biggest "war maker" and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew the nation's "great divider."

Campaigning across Ohio, Pennsylvania and into New York, Shriver met hard hat steel workers in Pittsburgh Thursday, got the endorsement of a 75,000-member union in Cincinnati and said in New York that Nixon's acceptance speech at the GOP national convention convinced him the President is living "in fantasyland — Disneyland — not in the United States."

Shriver was to spend most of today campaigning in upstate New York after breakfasting with the mayor of Bayonne, N.J.

Dissecting the Nixon acceptance speech and the Nixon record, Shriver in numerous appearances, blamed the President for permitting inflation to grow and for allowing unemployment and crime to rise.

The President has also refused to acknowledge Republican links to the bugging of the Democratic National Committee, Shriver said, and has declined to reveal the sources of what Shriver called a secret $10 million political "slush fund."

He accused Republicans of distorting and twisting the proposals of his presidential running mate, Sen. George McGovern, and he reacted to reports Nixon fund-raisers have suppressed a report on the alleged bugging incident and GOP political contributions with this statement:

"The smell of corruption has been surrounding the Nixon administration at least since the ITT scandal. This report just adds to the odor."

At a Democratic picnic in Pittsburgh and in an earlier speech before the International Molders Union AFL-CIO in Cincinnati, Shriver polished his political imagery:

"Richard Nixon's idea of a party line is a bugged telephone."

"Nixon says he is a peace maker but in the 1,004 days of his administration there has been nothing but war."

"Nixon is the number one war maker in the world at the present time."

"He has refused to muzzle his vice president, a man who has become the great divider."

Landing in New York City after a campaign tour that has taken him this week to cities in Texas, Louisiana, Georgia, Ohio and Pennsylvania, Shriver plunged into meetings with leaders of the New York black and Puerto Rican communities.

McGovern Says Economic Policy For 'Privileged Few'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern said today President Nixon had turned the economic structure of the United States into "a palace for the privileged few."

The Democratic presidential candidate, in a statement issued after a four-day, cross-country campaign swing, criticized the speech Nixon gave Wednesday night when he accepted nomination to a second term.

"Mr. Nixon said Wednesday night that since our economic structure has some broken windows, we Democrats want to tear it down and start again," McGovern said.

But, he went on, "we're tired of Richard Nixon turning it into a palace for the privileged few. Rather than tear anything down, we want to join Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman, John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson and restore 'that temple to the ancient truths.'"

McGovern planned a working day in his Senate office and a speech to the International Union of Presidents and State Coordinators today before leaving for a quiet weekend with his family on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

The South Dakota senator gave two speeches Thursday in Minneapolis-St. Paul—to the American Federation of Teachers, which received him warmly, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which greeted almost all he said on stony silence.

The AFT, representing some 300,000 teachers, broke a 56-year tradition to endorse McGovern's candidacy and pledged $250,000 to his campaign.

McGovern, with his defeated primary campaign rival Hubert H. Humphrey at his side, also met with Minnesota's top labor leaders. If he can get their help it could spell the difference in the traditionally Democratic state.

In his statement today, McGovern ridiculed Nixon for borrowing a phrase from McGovern's own campaign theme: "Come Home America."

"To those millions who have been driven out of your home in the Democratic party," Nixon said in his acceptance speech, "We say—come home—not to another party but to the great principles we believe in together."

"It is Richard Nixon who has sent America's greatest principles into exile," McGovern said.

Double Dose Is Enough For Miami Beach Leaders

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Mayor and hotel executive view the summer's political conventions as akin to a vaccination: painful now but good for Miami Beach in the long run.

But Mayor Chuck Hall said one double dose is enough.

Jerry Sussman, president of the South Florida Hotel Association, said it's too early to tell whether the city should invite the politicians back four years from now.

Although hotel occupancy at Miami Beach was down 5 to 10 per cent in July and August, he said, the summer proved "we can take on any convention on the face of the earth."

"I hope this will bear long-range fruit," said Sussman, manager of the Carillon Hotel.

Hall said he only agreed to holding both conventions in Miami Beach because "this would establish our credibility as Convention Center U.S.A. if we handled them properly, and I believe we did."

"Big deal," said John Malone, manager of a tire store near the Convention Center. "They get their share of conventions, they always have and they always will. These conventions have cost the city money and will continue to."

He said they hurt his business and "I wouldn't ask 'em back if I had a say so."

Some officials agreed. "The democratic process must continue, but let's do it somewhere else," said Dade County Sheriff E. Wilson Purdy.

"It's like having a big party at your home and the next morning you wake up and say, 'Never again,'" said Gus Govaert, executive director of the Beach Tourist Development Authority which gave $250,000 to the Democrats and $100,000 to the Republicans.

"Then the next day you invite another big party to your home for the next Friday," he added.

Hall said he might consider having both the Democratic and Republican national conventions back in Miami Beach only if "the federal government would consider putting several million dollars into the city treasury so the city could reduce taxes and repay the merchants somewhat."

Circleville Band Among Top At State Fair Contest

Judges at the Ohio State Fair Marching Band Contest chose Circleville's "Tiger" band as one of the top performing units from over 50 Ohio bands participating.

Six bands were named at top competitors in the AA classification, which covers bands from schools having over 700 students enrolled. These included Circleville, Grove City, Gallon, Winterville, Celina and Claymont.

There was also a judging of

A-rated schools, those having 700 or less high school enrollees. Competing in this category was another Pickaway County band, Westfall High. That music unit travelled from band camp at Wilmington to arrive at the fairgrounds at 8 a.m. yesterday.

Westfall was the first band to take the field in the contest yesterday, and although they did not rank among the top six in their division, they made a good showing.

As one of the top six bands in the AA division, Circleville was eligible for afternoon eliminations to choose the top musical performance in that class.

In the finals, three schools were presented superior ratings and a $700 cash award and three received $350 cash and excellent scores.

Circleville, along with Gallon and Celina, took the trophies and $350 each for excellent performances. All band (Continued on Page 2)

Court Eyes AIP Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court was asked Thursday to take a hand in the controversy over whose name should appear on the November ballot for the American Independent Party.

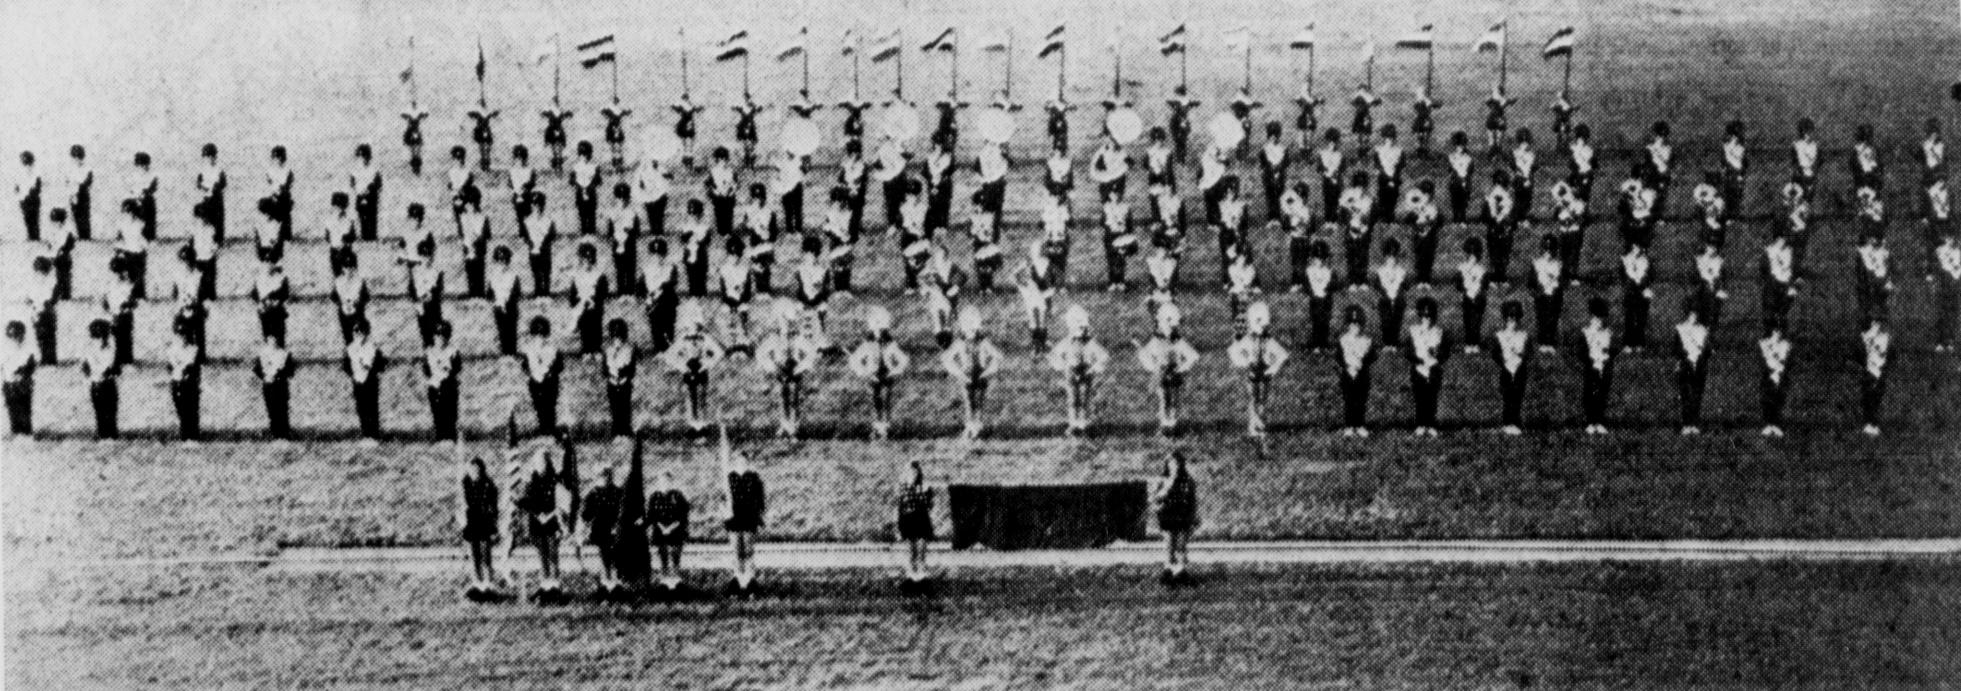

Cleveland attorney Richard Kay asked the high court to order that Secretary of State Ted Brown certify him as the AIP presidential nominee and L. Allen Greer as the vice presidential candidate.

Brown last week rejected the pair as official AIP candidates and instead recognized Arthur Cain, also a Cleveland attorney, as the certifying agent for the AIP candidates chosen at the party's convention in Louisville, Ky.

The party nominated John C. Schmitz and Thomas J. Anderson for president and vice president respectively.

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — The state is going ahead with plans for a state police academy here, despite its failure so far to obtain federal funds to help construct it.

Blaze Sweeps Brick Buildings Near Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Fire swept through two adjoining brick buildings in suburban Reading Thursday night, destroying a Pizza supply business, a Job Corps office and several apartments.

The fire destroyed the commissary for all Anglo's Pizza restaurants in the city, and drove 14 people from their apartments.

Netherlands Pileup Kills 16 Persons

BREDA, Netherlands (AP) — At least 16 persons perished in a fiery chain of death after a tanker truck collided with another truck, exploded and sent an impact through 36 other vehicles groping along a fogbound highway near Rotterdam this morning.

The rush-hour disaster was the worst traffic accident the Netherlands has ever had. Forty persons were hurt seriously.

The line of cars and trucks smashed and jolted or otherwise affected stretched for 10 miles north from the Breda traffic circle at Phinsbeek.

Witnesses told of a seriously injured woman trying in vain to rescue her child after a truck struck their car. They said a man who tried to jump out of a truck to safety drowned in a stretch of water lining the four-lane motorway.

Twenty ambulances were rushed to the scene. The rescue operation was hindered by fears that a refrigerated tanker, carrying a chemical liquid inflammable at a temperature of 39 degrees, might explode.

tomato. Thursday Dave McDonald stopped by the office with an 18-inch cucumber and several smaller ones around 15 inches in length. Walter Lewis of Williamsport started it all with his 15 1/2-inch cucumber.

Bakers Seek Federal OK To Raise Price Of Bread

WASHINGTON (AP) — American bakers are asking the Cost of Living Council to approve price increases for bread and other products to offset rising costs resulting from the U.S. Soviet wheat trade deal.

At the same time, a bill has been introduced in Congress for a government backed program to promote demand for bread and other wheat products in the United States. Opponents say this could also result in higher prices.

The American Bakers Association, which represents about 1,000 bakeries, said Thursday that an "extraordinary price movement for flour" since the Soviet wheat agreement has increased their costs by approximately two-thirds of a cent per pound of bread.

In a letter to Cost of Living Council Director Donald Rumsfeld, it asked for "immediate compensatory price relief," adding that "the failure of even one bakery will, indeed, be a tremendous price to pay in furtherance of our expanded trade with Russia."

A pound loaf of bread currently costs about 25 cents.

There was no mention of how much of an increase is anticipated, but industry spokesmen said earlier this week it could be from two to three cents per loaf.

The bakers requested a meeting with Cost of Living Council representatives next week.

Joseph M. Creed, general counsel for the bakers group, said pretax profits for bakeries on a one pound loaf of bread averaged 1.13 cents in 1971. Costs now have increased by an additional .67 cents per loaf, he said, and it will place most bakers "in a deficit position."

He said the increase results from price fluctuations which followed the "tremendous and unexpected sales" of some 400 million bushels of wheat to Russia.

Bakers say wheat has gone up from $1.57 a bushel in mid July to $1.86 per bushel last weekend, at Kansas City, and flour from $5.40 to $6.70 per hundredweight in the past year.

Drink Dispenser Burglary Investigated

Police investigated the burglary of a soft drink machine at the laundry at 106 Margaret Lane 6 a.m. this morning.

Patrolman Stevenson and Larry Jirles noticed that the coke machine at Fetherolf's Laundromat appeared to have been broken into. David Featherolf, owner of the Laundromat, was called to the scene where he found that the coin box and $10 in change were missing.

Pammy Fetherolf, Route 4, reported her blue 24 inch girls bike was stolen from Gourmet Corners.

Bakers Seek Federal OK To Raise Price Of Bread

WASHINGTON (AP) — American bakers are asking the Cost of Living Council to approve price increases for bread and other products to offset rising costs resulting from the U.S. Soviet wheat trade deal.

At the same time, a bill has been introduced in Congress for a government backed program to promote demand for bread and other wheat products in the United States. Opponents say this could also result in higher prices.

The American Bakers Association, which represents about 1,000 bakeries, said Thursday that an "extraordinary price movement for flour" since the Soviet wheat agreement has increased their costs by approximately two-thirds of a cent per pound of bread.

In a letter to Cost of Living Council Director Donald Rumsfeld, it asked for "immediate compensatory price relief," adding that "the failure of even one bakery will, indeed, be a tremendous price to pay in furtherance of our expanded trade with Russia."

A pound loaf of bread currently costs about 25 cents.

There was no mention of how much of an increase is anticipated, but industry spokesmen said earlier this week it could be from two to three cents per loaf.

The bakers requested a meeting with Cost of Living Council representatives next week.

Joseph M. Creed, general counsel for the bakers group, said pretax profits for bakeries on a one pound loaf of bread averaged 1.13 cents in 1971. Costs now have increased by an additional .67 cents per loaf, he said, and it will place most bakers "in a deficit position."

He said the increase results from price fluctuations which followed the "tremendous and unexpected sales" of some 400 million bushels of wheat to Russia.

Bakers say wheat has gone up from $1.57 a bushel in mid July to $1.86 per bushel last weekend, at Kansas City, and flour from $5.40 to $6.70 per hundredweight in the past year.

He is survived by one uncle, Gene Weaver, Trenton, N.J.

Arrangements will be completed by Defenbaugh Funeral Home.

British Soldier 531st Irish Terror Victim

Priests, Politicians Urge Cease-Fire On Provisionals

BELFAST (AP) — A British soldier was killed early today, the 14th in two weeks, by a sniper who fired three shots at a patrol in North Belfast. His death brought Northern Ireland's three-year fatality toll to at least 531, more than 300 of them this year.

Another soldier was badly wounded when a gunman opened fire on a foot patrol in Londonderry. The army claimed to have hit a gunman on the roof of a building in another part of Londonderry, near the Bogside Catholic district.

The Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army came under new pressure to stop its bombing and shooting campaign. Appeals for a cease-fire came from priests, politicians, and civil rights and community leaders — and from the Marxist-oriented Official wing of the IRA. The Officials laid down their arms in favor of political action some weeks ago.

The Civil Rights Association in Newry, where nine people were killed in an explosion Tuesday, sought a meeting with Sean McStofian, the Provos chief of staff. The association accused the Provos of "a callous disregard for public life."

Priests, who have been preaching reconciliation between Catholic and Protestant communities, deplored the rising death toll. And the Social Democratic and Labor party Ulster's pro-Catholic party, also denounced the bombings.

The IRA Officials charged the bombing campaign was "one of the greatest causes of sectarianism at the present time." The Provisionals accused the Officials of hypocrisy.

A Belfast court ordered the deporting of an American believed involved with the IRA. He was Ronald Alfred Hirsch, 34, an actor from New York who admitted his visa had expired. Officials said a notebook found on him had the names of IRA members in it and a London address connected with the IRA.

United States would be a second-rate power and peace would be imperiled.

In a statement issued upon arrival in Michigan, he called anew for antibusing legislation and accused the Democratic-controlled Congress of failing to act on the matter. McGovern favors busing as one tool to achieve desegregation, as do many federal courts.

Nixon saw few demonstrators during his cross-country journey. Virtually every audience was gathered by invitation. But a few opponents of the Vietnam war did raise a chant outside the Dwight D. Eisenhower High School he dedicated in Utica, Mich.

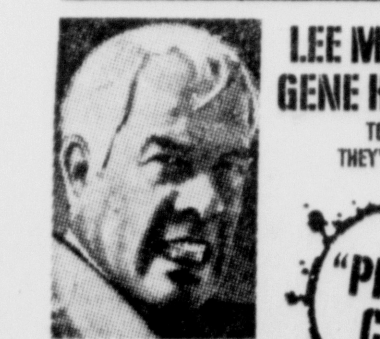

The President wrapped up his long and obviously arduous day by riding toward his home here in a golf cart past scrambling well-wishers.

Income Tax Repeal To Hurt Students?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Acting regents chancellor William Coulter said Thursday that repeal of the state income tax would mean "a very substantial increase in student fees."

"In Ohio, education lives out of the general fund budget of the state," Coulter said. "If the general fund loses revenue . . . the effect on higher education and all general fund programs have to be devastating."

Bottle Of Intravenous Fluid All That Keeps Widow Alive

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A retired 53-year-old torch singer has been carrying her life around with her in a bottle since last December.

"I can't go anywhere without my bottle," joked Mrs. Lynne Duke as she kicked an intravenous bottle stand at her daughter's home.

On Dec. 29, doctors removed 18 feet of gangrenous intestines from her abdomen and then told the family they expected her to die.

"I fooled a lot of people," the spunky widow said. "I'm bound and determined I'm not going to die."

Recently she sold her home for $15,000 to purchase the $20-a-day supply of fluid sugar and protein which drips life into a large artery near her heart. She has enough money left for

Nader Claims CAB Practices Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Calling for Civil Aeronautics Board Chairman Secor D. Browne to resign, consumer advocate Ralph Nader has accused the CAB of job discrimination against racial minorities and women.

A study by the Aviation Consumer Action Project, of which Nader is chairman, Thursday cited statistics to show that white males hold most of the best CAB jobs, and blacks and other racial minority group members, and women, are confined largely to lower-paying work.

"The CAB's employment practices within its own walls demonstrate that the agency is delinquent in implementing the national policy of equal employment opportunity," wrote Nader intern Marc Mihaly, a student at the University of California School of Law, who prepared the report.

Nader sent the report to Browne and, in an accompanying letter, said the CAB chairman should resign because under his leadership the CAB has:

— Granted airlines the highest single-package fare increase in CAB history.

— Approved for the first time a anti-competitive agreements among airlines which have reduced coast-to-coast flights by 30 per cent.

— Failed to enforce regulations requiring airlines to disclose the identity of their stockholders.

— Failed to prevent illegal control of airlines by the few large banks and insurance companies.

— Failed to act on consumer complaints about airline overbooking, overcharging, flight delays and baggage losses.

Aides said Browne would have no comment on the report until he has seen it.

No charges had been filed by the Darke County prosecutor said that "action will be taken, if warranted."

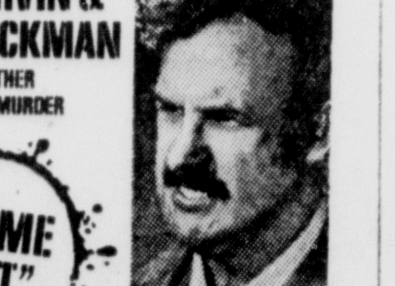

Robertson said he was producing a film on lives of young children who reside in a variety of environments.

Price Support County Sheriff Adds Deputies

March 23, 1971, along with nine other dairy farmers, I sat in the Cabinet room of the White House, across the table from the President of the United States and heard him compliment the dairymen on their marvelous work in consolidating and unifying of our industry and our involvement in politics. He said, 'You people are my friends and I appreciate it.'

"Two days later an order came from the U.S. Department of Agriculture increasing the support price of milk to 85 per cent of parity, which added from $500 to $700 million to dairy farmers' milk checks. We dairymen cannot afford to overlook this kind of economic benefit. Whether we like it or not, this is the way the system works."

The letter was sent by Powell to another member of the organization.

The reported meeting of dairymen with President Nixon followed by one day a contribution of $10,000 to four Republican fund-raising committees by TAPE, the political arm of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., another dairymen's group.

The Nixon administration, the Post said, previously denied charges by consumer advocates, including Ralph Nader, that the increased milk supports were a payoff for political contributions, saying its reversal on the issue resulted from a new analysis of the milk market situation. A consumer group also has filed a lawsuit seeking a rollback in the supports.

GOP Meet Leaves Conservatives In Control

By CARL LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Beneath the Republican euphoria of President Nixon's re-nomination and hoped-for re-election, the party has ended its national convention with conservative forces securely in control.

The party that met here this week ended its sessions with the Ronald Reagans and Barry Goldwaters and John Towers in firm control of its direction, rather than the Nelson Rockefeller and Charles Percys, as before.

In 1968, by contrast, Gov. Rockefeller remained a powerful figure, and there was talk of Percy or New York Mayor John V. Lindsay taking command if Richard Nixon lost that November's election.

Nixon won, and though he has used his presidency to move the nation's policies far to the left of traditional Republican views on welfare, Communist China and economic controls, he has made no similar impression on his party.

His supporters at work in Miami Beach sided with the party's conservative wing. In the one fight of the convention, over the allocation of delegates for the 1976 GOP gathering, the net of their effort was to strengthen the Southern and Western orientation of the party.

It was easy to picture this issue in terms of a potential fight for the 1976 nomination between Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, favored by the conservatives in the South and West, and Illinois

KING'S ISLAND BOUND — Fifteen young people and chaperones, a small portion of the Neighborhood Youth Corps who recently completed their summer work program at various non-profit organizations and county schools, left today for a trip to King's Island. They have worked since June 19 and finished August 18, completing 26 hours of work per week. This trip is the finalization of that program. Jo Loy, Youth Coordinator for the NYC Program, Bobbie Nelle Jones and Betty Keaton, of the Pickaway County Community Action, through whom these boys and girls, age 14-17 were employed, and Jim Fletcher, Guidance Counsellor from Logan Elm High School, accompanied the workers to King's Island for the day. Special thanks to the Ashville

Kiwanis and the Circleville Jaycees, and LaSertoma Club for providing the transportation to and from King's Island. John Robinson is the driver. Those attending were Rodney Scudder, Evon Cockerham, Pat Cullum, Barbara Jenkins, Debbie Rooker, Paul Williams, Rockie Cullum, Rusty Holbrook, Gary Hall, Jeff Hall and Richard Adams.

considered at this time fairly likely — the absence of other major challengers and any candidate's successful performance in the 23-primary obstacle course of 1976.

Even the man who formally nominated Agnew for a second vice presidential term, Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton, made clear at a news conference that neither Agnew nor anyone else has a lock on the 1976 nomination.

Some other challengers can be envisioned: Sen. William Brock of Tennessee, who organized the legions of Nixon youths here, or Indianapolis Mayor Richard G. Lugar, whose eagerness was apparent.

The elections this November and in 1974 could produce an array of new faces.

For the moment, this is Richard Nixon's party. But his re-election, if achieved, for a second and final term will set off the forces that will determine the party's future leadership.

If nothing else, however, the 1972 convention showed that the conservative trend of the 1960s within the GOP — which first became apparent with Goldwater's nomination in 1964 — remains a major fact of life for future Republican presidential contenders to face.

Deputy Brown Arrests Man

Sheriff's Deputy J. Phillip Brown arrested a McArthur man 5 p.m. Thursday for driving a car without a license tag after it was believed he was driving a stolen car.

Deputy Brown stopped the car, driven by Paul M. Harris, 20, McArthur, for a routine check on Route 104, north of Route 56.

The deputy discovered that 20 day tags on the car expired June 9.

And a computer check showed that the car was stolen in Columbus November, 1969.

Brown was arresting Harris and his companion when Columbus police informed the officer that they had recovered the car December, 1969, but had failed to put the information in the police crime computer.

U.S. Air Strikes Continue; Red China Says Boat Struck

SAIGON (AP) — Three American fighter-bombers were lost over North Vietnam last weekend, a fourth was downed today and six of the eight fliers are missing, the U.S. Command announced.

This raised losses over North Vietnam to 82 planes and 91 missing airmen since the resumption of full-scale bombing on April 6, the Command said. North Vietnam has announced the capture of more than 20 of the fliers.

The weather over the North cleared somewhat Thursday, and American planes flew more than 310 strikes, the largest number in a week. The Command said its fliers knocked out 25 warehouses, 10 ammunition storage buildings, 15 bridges and 31 water supply craft.

The Command launched an investigation today into a charge by Peking that American bombers attacked a life boat from a Chinese merchant ship off the coast of North Vietnam on Tuesday and killed five men.

Peking termed the attack "a grave provocation against the Chinese people" and called on United States to "guarantee against the recurrence of similar incidents."

Peking said the captain of the ship, a deputy political commissar and three seamen were killed. It claimed that the boat was flying the Chinese flag and that the American planes circled it at low altitude repeatedly "for reconnaissance before the bombing."

The U.S. Command admitted that Navy planes attacked a water craft Tuesday off Hon Ngu Island, 11 miles northeast of the port of Vinh.

This was the location specified by Peking. But while the Chinese claimed that the craft was a lifeboat from the merchant ship Hon Gai No. 151, the U.S. Command described it as a 30-foot water supply craft trying to circumvent the American mine blockade of North Vietnam's ports.

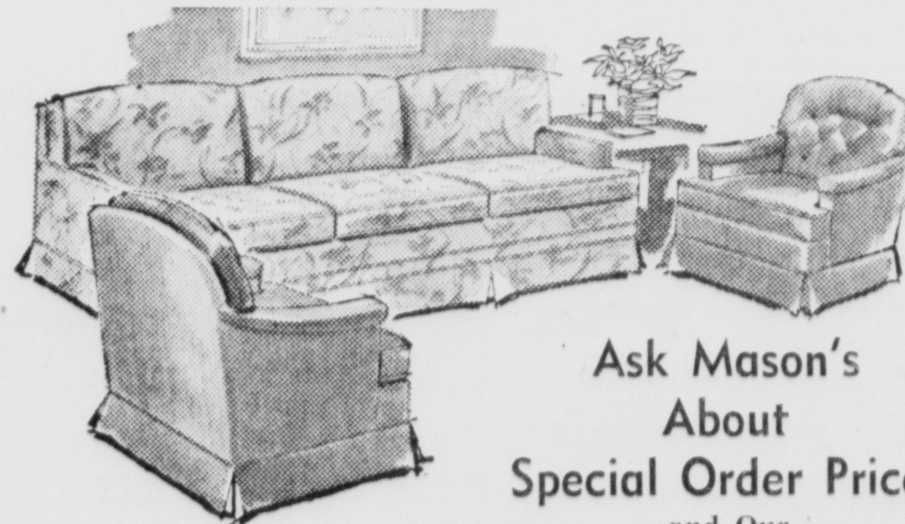

A preliminary statement from the command did not identify the nationality of the craft. The pilots from the carrier Oriskany who made the attack were being questioned, and operational reports were being rechecked.

"We have no evidence to indicate that we attacked a life boat," said the U.S. statement. "We do not target third country shipping."

Staggering Work Hours

In a New York City campaign that has relevance for any metropolitan center affected by commuter traffic congestion, the Midtown Task Force on Staggered Working Hours is urging more than 1,000 Manhattan firms to change their working days by at least a half hour at both ends of the day.

The organization, made up of 26 civic and trade associations and public agencies, says that more than 750,000 midtown employees now work from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. By starting their work days earlier or later, the Task Force says, the city's severe transportation congestion would be eased.

A study showed that at a single subway station in the area, for example, 7,757 riders entered at the 5 p.m. quitting time, but 3,334 fewer riders went through the turnstiles 15 minutes earlier.

Nearly 100,000 lower-Manhattan employees, many of whom occupy the World Trade Center, already work staggered hours and are responsible for a congestion reduction of 26 per cent in the morning peak period and a similar drop at the other end of the day.

If the Task Force program is effective in midtown and ultimately elsewhere in Manhattan, the effect of traffic should be significant. Spacing out commuters and their automobiles, and easing massive daily backups at the Holland and Lincoln Tunnels, where buses and private cars jockey for strategic entry positions, are at least two possibilities. And if staggered hours work in New York, why not in other cities?

The Fight Is For 1976

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
MIAMI BEACH — On the surface, the Republicans came here to do a snow job for Richard Nixon. And, insofar as 1972 is concerned, the snow job has been accomplished. The ticket has been ratified with scarcely a murmur. The conservatives made no fuss about foreign policy. Right-to-Work people went home grouching over the deletion from the platform of the 1968 support for their opposition to compulsory union membership, but they could do nothing about it. The White House had its wishes respected on the platform practically all the way.

But if it is Nixon for King (pro tem, of course), should it be assumed Agnew for Crown Prince? Throughout all the early battling over rules and delegate strength for 1976, that was the question. First, there was the fight about guaranteeing the smaller states, mainly in the south and middle west, with a margin of convention delegates that would prevent a big "Eastern Establishment" takeover of the party that would give 1976 to the liberals.

Senator Javits of New York and the liberal Ripon Society, lost out in their effort to "McGovernize" the party by turning it over to ethnic groups who do not habitually vote Republican. But the fight for a compromise that would give more representation to the more populous liberal states such as New York, Illinois, and New Jersey, by awarding bonus delegates for the election of Republican senators and governors, lasted longer.

The curious thing is that a big state governor, Ronald Reagan, should have been a leading champion of the right of the smaller, more rural states to representation bonuses that would project them against party domination by the big urban conglomerations of the East and North. And it was only a lesser phenomenon that Congressman Jack Kemp, the old Buffalo Bills quarterback who teamed up with Senator John Tower to support the conservatives in the 1976 delegation appointment fight, should have gone against his own Governor Nelson Rockefeller's wishes in the matter.

Spiro Agnew's investment in the 1976 delegation issue was always obvious. But Kemp's connection with it might indicate something that does not immediately meet the eye. Let us assume that a republican party dominated by the relatively conservative south and middle west would surely accept Spiro Agnew as the party crown prince. The remaining question for 1976 would then be Agnew's choice for his own vice presidential running mate.

New York state offers two likely prospective candidates who are young, personable, and conservative. One of them is senator James Buckley. The other is Congressman Jack Kemp. Although they come from the nerve center of "Eastern Establishment" power, either one of them would be wholly acceptable to the smaller states of the south and middle west as a 1976 vice presidential candidate.

The White House let it be known that it favored giving Jack Kemp all the "exposure" at Miami Beach that he could get. This was interpreted as a slap at Senator Javits Kemp, of course, denied that he was maneuvering to succeed Javits in the Senate. But could his friends be wishing to groom him for the vice presidential slot?

It is silly, in a way, to be talking about 1976 more than four years before a second Nixon term has become past history. But power is power. With the McGovern-Eagleton fiasco in mind, why shouldn't power hunters in the republican party be concerned with the whole ticket for 1976?

At any rate, his column gives you Jack Kemp. It is not at all fantastic to imagine him as crown prince Agnew's crown prince.

SATURDAY HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of this day could be disappointing to you and a time to use care and caution not to upset others. Later you can see clearly how to put an interesting new plan of action in motion and grasp an opportunity to make headway where it counts most. Make future plans.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Handle private affairs early in the morning and then you can help those who need your assistance. Dress in fine style and make a good impression on others. Make your own happiness.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A pal could be annoying in the morning but don't let this bother you, since he or she is under some kind of pressure. Try to be of service where it counts most. See expert for advice.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Put a clever plan to work that will gain the backing of a powerful individual. Advice from a good friend can also be most helpful. Pay an important bill. Spend evening with good friends.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are tempted to engage in a new interest, but this would only get you in trouble with a higher-up, so remain steadfast. Do an exceptionally fine job and gain respect of all.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Stop worrying about a bill — just pay it and get it off your mind. Later you can easily add to your abundance. Listen to those whose experience is different from yours, and benefit therefrom.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) An associate could be annoying in the morning, but if you stick to work that needs to be done, you derive fine benefits. Show consideration to those you encounter in the business world.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you don't take care of a troublesome matter in the morning, you could encounter a serious altercation with fellow workers. Take advantage of spare time by influencing people.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want to have a good time in the morning, which is fine, but be sure to take care of your duties first. Don't insist that others do things the way you always do them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Show kindness in handling one at home and you get the right results now. Go to the amusement that appeals most to you. You have fine talents that should be put to use.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Wait until the afternoon before mailing a letter or making a long-distance phone call and you get far better results. A home affair can now be handled well. You are highly inspired.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Money matters are hard to handle early in the day, but much easier as the day progresses. Regular associates now comprehend your complicated ideas. Get their cooperation.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Morning is the best time to improve your health through exercise. Later handle those money matters well. Try to stretch whatever money you have. Avoid any gossip tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those charming young people who will have a great desire to learn as much as possible in the shortest time. Give as fine a college education as you can and then your progeny will get an early start on a fine career, since there is determination and perseverance here, as well as fine intellect. A good family person in this chart.

Why does a patient have to be awake when he is taken to an operating room? Isn't it easier if he doesn't see all the strange things that are going on? Wouldn't he be less frightened?

Mrs. D. J. R., Minn.

Dear Mrs. R.: It would seem that your suggestion is a sensible and reasonable one. Why then is it not done?

The art and science of anesthesia has progressed tremendously in the past 25 years. Doctors and nurses trained in this specialty have acquired extensive knowledge in the general physiology of the body. All organs are affected by anesthesia. The key to the anesthesiologist's talent is safety.

Within the framework of such safety lies the knowledge of how much pre-operative medication should be given for people of all ages. Weight, size, and general physical condition determine the amount of medicine given before surgery.

Too much medication may interfere with the depth of respiration and the cooperation of the patient, both of which are essential for good and safe anesthesia. Another significant factor, especially for children, is to have them thoroughly prepared for every aspect of the hospital experience, the anesthesia and the special character of the surgery they are about to have.

They thus confront the hospital, the operating room, the mask, doctors, the anesthesia, and convert it all into a significant growth experience of childhood. Adults, too, are emotionally benefited when there is no element of surprise and when there is not total amnesia about the whole operative procedure.

Can a "blue baby" outgrow the condition or is an operation always necessary?

Miss K. J., N.C.

Dear Miss J.: The so-called "blue baby" has been identified this way because cyanosis or blueness is the child's most striking feature. The blueness is caused by an inadequate supply of oxygen circulating in the blood throughout the body.

There are technical congenital malformations of the heart that can interfere with the amount of oxygen and hemoglobin in the blood. The most common condition is known as the Tetralogy of Fallot. Children born with this abnormality have four distinct problems with the anatomy of the heart and the blood vessels that interfere with normal functioning.

The mechanical defect of the heart cannot be "outgrown." Surgery to remedy all four problems has been remarkably successful. The ideal time and the type of surgery, of course, depend on the judgment of the surgeon and physician in each individual case.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Regardless of who wins the presidency, unemployment must be tackled all over again in an attempt to separate fantasy from reality.

Still unanswered, for example, are these basic questions: —Is it really possible, considering politics, to maintain full employment and a stable economy?

—What is full employment—four per cent unemployed, as we now claim, or nearer three per cent, as some officials claimed during the Johnson administration? —Who is to be regarded as unemployed?

The federal government says the jobless are all who attempted to find jobs during the month previous to its survey, or who were waiting to report for work or temporarily laid off.

But there is disagreement. Consider these two viewpoints, each widely held, about the same situation.

First, two New York professors, William Abraham and A.J. Jaffe, claim the jobless figures released each month by the government fail to include all those who are really seeking jobs. The federal statistics, they say, fail to count the "inactive unemployed" or "discouraged worker,"—eligible for work, but too discouraged by earlier failures to look for work.

The professors say unemployment in the United States is more than a full percentage point higher than the official figure—recently about 5.5 per cent of the labor force.

Now consider the view of the National Federation of Independent Business, which claims an active membership of more than 300,000 small-and medium-size businessmen.

The federation claims that the widely quoted jobless figures overstate the problem.

It quotes the owner of a Mississippi cleaning plant as writing: "As the potential employer of as many as 20 people can you see how I feel when I go for months without one single application for work."

"I can call the State Employment Office and the odds are about 10 to 1 that they will not send anyone to apply for the job. Most people who can even be contacted . . . will tell us they have no experience but will not take the job as it might interfere with their welfare."

And it quotes an Ohio business owner as saying, "The percentage of unemployment published is a real joke. We have no luck finding dependable chauffeurs at $3.75 an hour, guaranteed 40 hours and 52 weeks of work."

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the most meticulous researchers in literature is Irving Wallace, the best-selling author who has written millions of words that earned him millions of dollars on a battered $35 typewriter his parents gave him in his youth.

Wallace developed his passion for research as a nonfiction writer, but also kept it up when he turned to fiction. He studied source material over a 10-year-period before completing his latest success, "The Word," a religious novel.

Here are a few tidbits of unusual Biblical lore he says he turned up in his quest for facts:

About 1½ billion Bibles have been sold since Gutenberg printed the first one.

There is not a single date in the entire Bible.

The New Testament does not mention that Jesus was a carpenter, that he was executed on Mt. Calvary, that nails were driven into his hands or feet on the cross, or that such a place as Nazareth existed.

The cross was not a symbol of Christianity until 600 years after Christ's death.

Church bells were not used until after the eighth century. Since Christianity was illegal almost everywhere for five centuries, the faithful were told of meetings by word of mouth. Later they were summoned by trumpet.

The New Testament does not mention the Three Wise Men as having ridden camels. According to some Latin-American churches, they rode a donkey, elephant and camel.

How much did Judas get for betraying Jesus? The 30 pieces of silver he received were called shekels, and 30 of them would be worth about $14 in our money.

Standard Bibles say Christ died in his early 30's. But a lost Gospel called the Acts of Pilate, and also the Gospel of Nicodemus, states that Jesus died between the ages of 41 and 54.

Jesus was reported to have come back to earth 11 times in the month and a third following his death.

Ponderosa Systems Reports Earnings

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Ponderosa Systems, Inc., steak house chain reported Wednesday second-quarter sales of $15,535,655, compared with $9,845,571 for the same period in 1971.

The vocabulary of the Bible is not large. There are only 5,642 different words in the Old Testament, only 1,400 in the New Testament.

Pontius Pilate is worshipped by the Coptic Church of Ethiopia, a 10-million-member Christian sect. They believe that Pilate repented his sin of having sentenced Jesus to death and later became a convert.

Chauncey Stonerock, of 337 E. Corwin St., offered for sale a house mounted on wheels (house car) going for a bargain price if sold immediately.

Dollar Day bargains offered by local merchants included: Hoster Meat Mkt. — 10 pound bucket of lard; Colwell and Katz — any straw hat; Joseph's Clothing Co. — a work shirt and two pair work socks; Geo. H. Fickard & Co. — Four bottles of Poor Man's Tonic; Young's Dry Cleaners — two ladies' waists cleaned and pressed. All these items and services were offered for the price of one dollar each.

Willard Francis fell from the sliding board at the Corwin St. school building and dislocated his left shoulder.

Special offering at the Grand Opera House was Charles Chaplin in "The Kid." The film was billed as one which took a year to make and "six reels of joy." Admission prices were galley 5 to 11 cents more for upper, balcony or lower floor seats.

Lincoln Groceries Stores Co. of 137 W. Main was holding a bankruptcy sale. Everything was ordered sold by federal government, meaning soap, tomatoes, corn, coffees, teas, syrups, vegetables and hundreds of other articles would be sold at never heard of prices.

Thirty members of the Chamber of Commerce motored to Laurelville and took dinner at the village hotel. Afterwards they visited the merchants and were later entertained in the Knights of Pythias hall by the Business Men's club.

John H. Bryant, who would have celebrated his 101st birthday

Did his Biblical researches convert novelist Wallace, who was a professed atheist when he began them?

"No, but writing the book made me an agnostic," the author says. "My feelings at this point are best expressed in Ernest Renan's agnostic prayer: 'O Lord, if there is a Lord, save my soul, if I have a soul.'" thday anniversary if he had lived until Dec. 24, died in a chair at his home at New Holland one afternoon. Apparently in good health that had been the marvel of all of those who knew him despite the century that he had lived, he had returned from a walk and fell asleep in his favorite chair. Three sons, George, Charles and Clayton, survived him.

The Wood Specialty and Manufacturing Co. was putting finishing touches on four passenger bus cars for the Selma, O., board of education. The cars seated 35 school children comfortably and were to be mounted on a one ton Ford truck. The company was making a state reputation on their output in this line.

Humane officer W. F. Valentine gave Henry McKinley of Darby Twp., his choice of being put under arrest or turning out a horse he had kept confined for five years. McKinley apparently had stalled the horse for continually jumping fences. The long confinement did not bear the horse well. It had weakened the animal, made him almost blind and allowed his hooves to grow 13 inches long.

A map showing the old Indian trails, towns, villages and early settlements by white men in Ohio was received by Ross County Surveyor Ben Walker from Walter M. Dawley, formerly Chillicothe city surveyor.

The Cary Tarbill barn on the old Mace farm on the Waterloo Pike was destroyed by fire with all its contents. Some items consumed in the flames were hay, oats, barley, a lot of farm implements including a new drill, a wagon, harness, tools, some new lumber and a Hup automobile.

Staggering Work Hours

In a New York City campaign that has relevance for any metropolitan center affected by commuter traffic congestion, the Midtown Task Force on Staggered Working Hours is urging more than 1,000 Manhattan firms to change their working days by at least a half hour at both ends of the day.

The organization, made up of 26 civic and trade associations and public agencies, says that more than 750,000 midtown employees now work from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. By starting their work days earlier or later, the Task Force says, the city's severe transportation congestion would be eased.

A study showed that at a single subway station in the area, for example, 7,757 riders entered at the 5 p.m. quitting time, but 3,334 fewer riders went through the turnstiles 15 minutes earlier.

Nearly 100,000 lower-Manhattan employees, many of whom occupy the World Trade Center, already work staggered hours and are responsible for a congestion reduction of 26 per cent in the morning peak period and a similar drop at the other end of the day.

If the Task Force program is effective in midtown and ultimately elsewhere in Manhattan, the effect of traffic should be significant. Spacing out commuters and their automobiles, and easing massive daily backups at the Holland and Lincoln Tunnels, where buses and private cars jockey for strategic entry positions, are at least two possibilities. And if staggered hours work in New York, why not in other cities?

EDITOR'S NOTE —

Dear Editor:

When President Nixon made his acceptance speech at the Republican National Convention, he got around to the subject of our "oldsters" and our Senior Citizens and began scratching their backs so that they in turn would scratch his this coming November.

The praise he had for our old folks followed these lines: It is they who have made this nation what it is — the greatest in the world. And for their devotion to American principles and ideals and for the labor they poured into the making of this country, much is owed them.

It would be extremely stupid for anyone to attempt to refute what Nixon had to say as regards the foregoing. But the saying of it on his part adds up to no more than a gust of hot air.

Just a few months ago a Democrat sponsored bill to raise social security by 20 per cent was presented to Congress. Nixon insisted that such a raise would be inflationary and argued the raise should not exceed five per cent. The 20 per cent raise passed Congress and Nixon "against his better judgment" signed it into law. The raise goes into effect next month and will appear on October's social security check. And when it does, the recipients of such checks are not going to consider themselves overpaid. Nor will they be.

I question the judgment of a president who so belatedly begins heaping praise on certain of those of our society in order to get their votes. I sincerely hope that at the polls this coming November the people to whom this letter refers do not cast their votes as foolishly as Nixon hopes they will.

They'll Do It Every Time

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Facing Life Again Without Breasts

DEAR ABBY: Those women who complain because they have small breasts should cut their blessings, and their breasts.

I was always small, and even went to a doctor about it. He laughed and told me that's why they sold so many padded bras.

Well, I never thought it could happen to me, but I had to have both my breasts removed in life-saving surgery.

I couldn't have written this letter six years ago without tears dropping all over the page, but I can say truthfully that now it doesn't bother me. I can thank God for a loving husband who I thought I'd lose but didn't.

Now I am trying to adjust to this topless, bra-less era minus bosoms. It isn't easy, but I'm doing the best I can with the assets I have left.

OFF MY CHEST

DEAR OFF: You have a soul sister in Marvella Bayh, the beautiful wife of the handsome, young Indiana senator. She told the story of her mastectomy in the June issue of Today's Health Magazine with such courage and candor she was an inspiration to all women who shared that experience.

DEAR ABBY: Please, be the judge in this controversy: When a woman is told, "You think like a man" is that a compliment or not? Sign this . . .

"A WOMAN WHO THINKS LIKE A MAN"

DEAR WOMAN: It's a compliment only to a woman who thinks a man's thinking is superior to that of a woman's.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to relate two separate incidents and would appreciate your opinion.

The first incident: My husband was driving down a busy city street when he noticed a box in the street which apparently had fallen out of someone's car. He stopped and picked it up. It contained 12 freshly laundered white shirts. The owner's name was on a slip inside, so my husband immediately went to a phone booth and tried to locate him. There were three people by the same name so my husband called all three. The last one was the man who had just lost his laundry. My husband drove (out of his way) to the home of the man, and he rang the doorbell. The man came to the door, took the box, said, "Thanks, Buddy," and shut the door.

Incident Number Two: Last week my young daughter and I were getting out of our car in a shopping center when she noticed a woman's billfold on the ground. I picked it up and saw that it had money and credit cards inside. I took it immediately to the parking lot attendant and turned it in. I left my name and phone number.

I went back later and asked if the lady who lost the billfold ever got it back. He said she had. I then asked if he had given her my name and phone number. He said, "Yes." End of story.

Sometimes I wonder, Abby. Does it pay to be honest?

Some Tickets Still Available For Amphitheatre Dedication

To assist in sales in Pickaway County for tickets to the Sugarloaf Amphitheatre dedication Sept. 8, two new locations have been designated as ticket centers.

In addition to Yates Buick, two downtown businesses have taken on a number of tickets for the symphony, ox roast and full day of activities from 12:30 on. Kochheisers Hardware and the Third National Bank will have a supply on hand, but persons interested in attending should purchase tickets now, since only a limited number are available in Ross, Pickaway and Pike Counties.

Tickets for the ox roast are purchased separately from those for amphitheatre seating for the Cincinnati Orchestra "pop" concert to be presented about 8 p.m. "under the stars."

But there is a whole day of activity planned. Area high school bands will perform from noon until 3:30 when the ox roast is set to begin. During the two-hour serving period, entertainment will be provided "wandering minstrel" style with several Circleville and Pickaway County folk groups and combos among the performers.

Later in the evening, just before the Cincinnati Symphony concert, Scioto Society officials will join with the author of the play "Tecumseh," the tribal chief of the Shawnee Nation in Oklahoma, and other dignitaries in officially dedicating the land and amphitheatre as Ohio's newest outdoor drama and landmark for the historical play tracing the early residents of the Scioto Valley.

Tickets are available today. Scioto Society trustees advise that a delay may mean it will be too late to enjoy this event.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Facing Life Again Without Breasts

DEAR ABBY: Those women who complain because they have small breasts should cut their blessings, and their breasts.

I was always small, and even went to a doctor about it. He laughed and told me that's why they sold so many padded bras.

Well, I never thought it could happen to me, but I had to have both my breasts removed in life-saving surgery.

I couldn't have written this letter six years ago without tears dropping all over the page, but I can say truthfully that now it doesn't bother me. I can thank God for a loving husband who I thought I'd lose but didn't.

Now I am trying to adjust to this topless, bra-less era minus bosoms. It isn't easy, but I'm doing the best I can with the assets I have left.

OFF MY CHEST

DEAR OFF: You have a soul sister in Marvella Bayb, the beautiful wife of the handsome, young Indiana senator. She told the story of her mastectomy in the June issue of Today's Health Magazine with such courage and candor she was an inspiration to all women who shared that experience.

DEAR ABBY: Please, be the judge in this controversy: When a woman is told, "You think like a man" is that a compliment or not? Sign this . . .

Sacred Spring Dries In Turkey

ISTANBUL (AP) — One of the most sacred springs in the Christian world has run dry. The spring is at the "House of the Virgin Mary," a tiny 1st-century house near Ephesus in southwestern Turkey, where some believe the Virgin spent her last days.

Until this summer the spring provided ample water for the thousands of pilgrims who visit it each year. This summer only a few drops trickle from the spring.

The Roman Catholic custodian of the shrine, which was visited a few years ago by Pope Paul VI, has forbidden pilgrims to fill bottles with the sacred water.

Widespread drought in the surrounding region is believed responsible for the failure of the spring.

Farmer's Almanac Retreats From 'Male Chauvinism'

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — The Farmer's Almanac has spent 156 years poking gentle fun at women with lines like, "Many women would be more spic if they had less span." But times have changed, says editor Ray Geiger. "The belief that it's a man's world' quite evidently becomes less valid with every passing day and year," Geiger said. Not that the Almanac is going to give up its one-liners aimed at women, but Geiger has written a two-page article for the 1973 edition, available Sept. 17, which is quite complimentary of woman's role in the world.

Among other things, Geiger, 62, points out that tests have shown a woman's intelligence is equal to a man's and that women control the purse strings of the United States, making 80 per cent of all consumer purchases.

Geiger said in an interview Thursday he included the article because of a letter from a Maryland woman complaining that certain jokes, bits of verse and capsules of wisdom in the 1972 Almanac were insulting to women.

Barbara Collier of Bethesda, Md., cited 36 items she said were demeaning of women, including this bit of advice: "One of the best ways for a woman to catch a man is to keep her trap shut."

A man's meaning behind that, she said, is "women are always after men, and women talk too much."

She said she did not believe there was "conscious intent behind this. Most men and many women (even little girls) have the popular cliches so ingrained that they simply do not realize what they are doing."

"However," she wrote, "I find it hard to believe that many men find jokes using all the tired old stereotypes uproariously funny, and I am sure most women are not terribly amused."

Geiger said the woman's letter "got me thinking" and article was the result.

The 1973 Almanac, with a circulation of 4.5 million, still contains one-liners on women ("My wife leads a double life — hers and mine") and its usual round of helpful hints and predictions.

It says the 1972-73 winter will be milder than last year's and there will be an early spring next year.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The scene was a festive Hollywood dinner party. Suddenly, an elderly man slumped in his chair and someone shouted, "Is there a doctor in the house?"

Instinctively, David Hartman and John Saxon both jumped up.

Just then a real doctor rushed forward and the TV doctors settled back. Hartman, who stars with Saxon in television's "The Doctors," tells the story to illustrate how deeply involved actors become in long-term roles as doctors.

With his show preparation—including medical research, attendance at medical seminars and weeks as an observer at hospitals — Hartman concedes he'd be tempted to administer treatment in emergencies. "But there is an ethical problem," he says. "What if I did something wrong? It would be easier if I were a layman with no connection to medicine. In my case, people would say, 'Oh, he's an actor and he thinks he knows so much about medicine.'"

"In the case of a heart attack, I could probably use common sense or simply first aid like any other layman. It would depend on the situation."

Hartman, the tall, rangy actor, who portrays Dr. Hunter, the cardiologist with a kindly bedside manner, is entering his fourth season on the series which switches time slots this year from its "Bold Ones" period every other Sunday night to a weekly spot every Tuesday night.

Because of the long-running role, strangers as well as friends tend to treat Hartman as "Dr. Hunter."

"People constantly call me when they have a medical problem," he says.

"My answer," Hartman says jokingly, "is take two aspirins, lots of liquids, get bed rest and call me tomorrow."

"Actually," he adds, "I refer them to a physician."

Although he won't give prescriptions off-screen, Hartman is beating out many real doctors as the most sought-after lecturer at medical societies and doctors' and nurses' conventions.

In recent months he has traveled the country speaking to groups including the American Medical Association's convention of medical society presidents, the American College of Chest Physicians, the Association of Operating Room Nurses and the Los Angeles County Medical Society. He also dedicated a medical center at Gallopis, Ohio, and attended an acupuncture clinic at Stanford University.

Hartman as lecturer usually tells his audiences that television can educate the public about medical care and ease fears of illness.

More and more, he tries to have a say in the kind of shows presented on "The Doctors," pushing for informative topics.

"My whole thrust has been to make sure we are doing shows where we can make some kind of contribution," Hartman says.

Scaffolding Falls, Injures 10 Persons

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Ten persons were injured when heavy steel scaffolding from an overpass under construction collapsed on a busy four-lane highway Thursday night, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The beams crushed two cars and a truck, but no one was killed, the patrol said. Some of the injured were workmen on the project.

Two of the injured were listed in critical condition in a local hospital. Conditions of the others were not immediately known.

The bridge is being built for a new freeway over U. S. 50 just east of Sacramento. The vehicles caught in the debris were driving on U. S. 50.

Sam Helwer, district supervisor of the California Department of Highways, said the steel beams were used to support the structure while the concrete was curing. He said crews had been removing them all week, and expected to finish the job Friday night.

Traffic on U. S. 50 was backed up for miles, the patrol said. But the patrol expected that the debris would be removed by early Friday.

250 Celebrities To Visit Nixons

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President and Mrs. Nixon will throw a party for 250 celebrities of the entertainment world Sunday afternoon in San Clemente, Calif.

The poolside party at the Western White House will be the main weekend event for Nixon, who was renominated for another term at the Republican National Convention here.

Sewer Goof May Cost $700,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Utilities Director Raymond Kudukis said Wednesday he is studying a monumental sewer goof, worth $700,000.

The west side sewer, in the area of W. 138th St. and West Ave. S. W., was supposed to eliminate basement flooding and drain off rain water during wet weather.

"The thing is we still have flooding," Kudukis said, also saying he didn't want to criticize the work of other engineers.

The sewer was designed originally to take sewage from smaller sewers coming out of homes, and discharge the water into Big Creek. But the project was halted by the Ohio Department of Health in 1970 when it was almost half completed.

Revised plans called for devices to be put on the feeder sewers coming from homes, to trap the raw sewage from entering the large sewer during dry weather.

During wet weather, when sewers overflowed, the main sewer carries the overflow sewage and the rain water into the creek.

Kudukis said the utilities commission is trying to salvage as much of the system as possible, but he said the problem is what to do with the flooding.

"Actually," he adds, "I refer them to a physician."

Although he won't give prescriptions off-screen, Hartman is beating out many real doctors as the most sought-after lecturer at medical societies and doctors' and nurses' conventions.

In recent months he has traveled the country speaking to groups including the American Medical Association's convention of medical society presidents, the American College of Chest Physicians, the Association of Operating Room Nurses and the Los Angeles County Medical Society. He also dedicated a medical center at Galipolis, Ohio, and attended an acupuncture clinic at Stanford University.

Hartman as lecturer usually tells his audiences that television can educate the public about medical care and ease fears of illness.

More and more, he tries to have a say in the kind of shows presented on "The Doctors," pushing for informative topics.

"My whole thrust has been to make sure we are doing shows where we can make some kind of contribution," Hartman says.

Scaffolding Falls, Injures 10 Persons

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Ten persons were injured when heavy steel scaffolding from an overpass under construction collapsed on a busy four-lane highway Thursday night, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The beams crushed two cars and a truck, but no one was killed, the patrol said. Some of the injured were workmen on the project.

Two of the injured were listed in critical condition in a local hospital. Conditions of the others were not immediately known.

The bridge is being built for a new freeway over U. S. 50 just east of Sacramento. The vehicles caught in the debris were driving on U. S. 50.

Sam Helver, district supervisor of the California Department of Highways, said the steel beams were used to support the structure while the concrete was curing. He said crews had been removing them all week, and expected to finish the job Friday night.

Traffic on U. S. 50 was backed up for miles, the patrol said. But the patrol expected that the debris would be removed by early Friday.

250 Celebrities To Visit Nixons

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President and Mrs. Nixon will throw a party for 250 celebrities of the entertainment world Sunday afternoon in San Clemente, Calif.

The poolside party at the Western White House will be the main weekend event for Nixon, who was renominated for another term at the Republican National Convention here.

Sewer Goof May Cost $700,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Utilities Director Raymond Kudukis said Wednesday he is studying a monumental sewer goof, worth $700,000.

The west side sewer, in the area of W. 138th St. and West Ave. S. W., was supposed to eliminate basement flooding and drain off rain water during wet weather.

"The thing is we still have flooding," Kudukis said, also saying he didn't want to criticize the work of other engineers.

The sewer was designed originally to take sewage from smaller sewers coming out of homes, and discharge the water into Big Creek. But the project was halted by the Ohio Department of Health in 1970 when it was almost half completed.

Revised plans called for devices to be put on the feeder sewers coming from homes, to trap the raw sewage from entering the large sewer during dry weather.

During wet weather, when sewers overflowed, the main sewer carries the overflow sewage and the rain water into the creek.

Kudukis said the utilities commission is trying to salvage as much of the system as possible, but he said the problem is what to do with the flooding.

More than a FRIEND

Did you ever have a pal who was like a second shadow to you . . . a friend who was always there when you needed him . . . someone who laughed with you when you were happy, and comforted you when your turtle died or your puppy ran away?

Our world is a big place, and people, even close friends, can't always stay together. One day you had to say "goodbye" and go your separate ways.

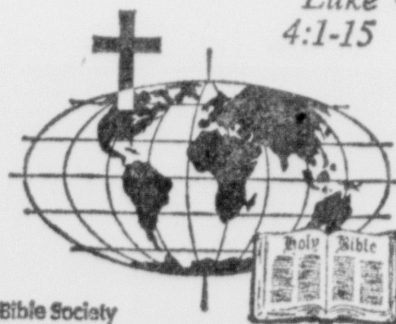

Since then, you've found new friends. You've also found an emptiness, a need, which people alone could not satisfy. We need a goal at the end of life's path and un-failing strength and guidance along the way.

Only God can fill this emptiness.

Only God can be with you the entire length of your path.

And when you reach the end? Only God can take you safely beyond.

Come to church this Sunday. You don't have to walk alone.

Australians Study Old Skeleton

OLD BONES — Prof. Neil W. Macintosh has removed the skeleton of an aborigine who lived thousands of years ago from the earth near Lake Nitchie, 550 miles west of Sydney. Here

Macintosh displays the teeth of Tasmanian devils (a carnivorous animal) that formed a necklace around the neck of the skeleton.

By GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY (AP) — The skeleton of an aborigine who lived thousands of years ago has been recovered from the earth near Lake Nitchie, 550 miles west of Sydney.

By comparison, the man was a giant — 6 feet, 2½ inches — against an average 5 feet 6 inches for the aborigine of today.

Around the neck and reaching to the pelvis was a strange necklace made of 180 pierced teeth of the Tasmanian devil, a carnivorous dog-like animal that has been extinct on the Australian mainland for 3,000 years.

'Handy' Man Pedals Bike

EDMONTON (AP) — Ken Hillaby can't use his legs to pedal a bicycle, so he uses his hands.

Crippled with polio since childhood, the 21-year-old musician now can take part in the bicycle craze thanks to a friend who designed and built a hand-pedalled bike.

The friend, Bob Townsend, 23, is a foreman at a bicycle shop and he built the machine for Hillaby as a favor.

Especially adapted to Hillaby's handicap, the bicycle has front and rear wheel drive, two front brakes which are operated by hand and a rear brake operated by feet for when Mrs. Hillaby uses it — and hand-operated pedals for handlebars.

The idea for the bike came up when Mrs. Hillaby told her husband how much she'd like it if they could ride together. Built by adding to and altering a small bike, its most noticeable feature is its three wheels — for stability.

Almost as eye-catching is the plaid baby seat, complete with safety belt, behind the rider's seat. It is especially for the Hillaby's son, Jason, who is 16 months old.

Prof. Neil W. Macintosh, who removed the skeleton from the ground, said radio carbon tests on the skeleton and walls of the grave had shown it to be about 6,280 years old.

The professor mentioned the skeleton when giving evidence before the Senate Committee on Social Environment in his capacity as chairman of the Australian Institute of Aboriginal Studies. He was pleading for the preservation of sacred sites not known to modern aborigines.

Macintosh, professor of anatomy at the University of Sydney, said the skeleton had been found two years ago and since then had been studied at the university. He said a geomorphologist (scientist who studies the form of the earth) had called him to Lake Nitchie after seeing the exposed skull.

The skeleton, the professor said, was in extremely hard ground. Bones in the neck, spine, chest and legs had been dislocated — but not broken — to fit the body in the ground in a crouched position. The grave was intact.

The necklace teeth, according to the professor, were of different ages, with some brown and cracked and others lighter. Some, he said, were 2,000 years older than the skeleton.

The Tasmanian devil — named for its unfortunate looks — is thought to have been rare 4,000 years ago, and to have disappeared from the Australian mainland about 3,000 years ago.

It was known to exist along the west coast of the island state, Tasmania, until 1935 but many think it is extinct today.

Its habitat in Tasmania was lush rain forest country, and Macintosh believes the Lake Nitchie area must have been similar before a climate change 16,000 years ago.

Urge Food Hoarding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department, at a time when consumers are paying record high prices for groceries, says Americans should hoard food just in case of atomic attack.

The recommendation was included in an updated pamphlet issued Thursday, the day the department reported food prices soared to record heights. The pamphlet, entitled "Family Food Stockpile for Survival," was first issued in Aug. 1961, a period when civil defense and fear of nuclear attack were prevalent.

"Every family should either build up and keep a two-week supply of regular food in the home at all times or assemble and maintain a special two-week stockpile of survival foods in the fallout shelter or home," the USDA advised.

The publication, identified as "slightly revised" in July this year, included sample menus for families hiding in fallout shelters until threats of nuclear contamination passed.

on administration, whose controls on dividends are acting to encourage splits.

A split is an action taken by a company to increase its number of outstanding shares, at the same time decreasing the value of each individual share. The usual reason is to bring the stock into a more attractive price range.

If John Jones owns 100 shares of X Corp., worth $100 each, and X Corp. declares a 2-for-1 split, Jones gives up his old shares and gets 200 new ones in return.

According to market economists each of Jones's new shares would be worth $50, so he has the same $10,000 investment he started out with.

In fact, however, it often happens that the value of the shares increases a bit, as new investors are attracted to the stock at its lower price. If the price rises to $51 a share, Jones has a $200 profit.

The stock split, in effect, can function like a dividend, giving Jones a little extra return for his money.

As part of Phase 2, the administration has maintained a 4 per cent annual limit on increases in dividends, but it has not regulated splits.

"By virtue of the freeze on dividends, some companies have been splitting their stock as an alternative way of doing something for their share-

Weeds Invade Culture

WASHINGTON (AP) — The John F. Kennedy Center in the Nation's capital recently fell victim to a familiar blight: weeds.

Visitors' admiration for the performing arts center, with its foundations and terraces, was dimmed by the profusion of unsightly weeds bordering the building and filling its planters.

In an anti-weed crusade, the invaders were uprooted and replaced by crawling ivy

Auto Prices 'Adjusted'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective price "adjustments" — to cover the cost of optional equipment that will become standard on 1973 models — have been approved by the Price Commission for the big four auto-makers.

The commission said Thursday the average increase would be $8 for Ford Motor Co., $4.38 for General Motors, $1 for American Motors and $12.53 for Chrysler.

The additional equipment for Ford ranges from power disc brakes to a spare tire lock, for General Motors from disc brakes to bumper guards on some models. Chrysler's equipment ranges from electric ignition to cargo area carpeting, while American Motors listed a rear door armrest and fuel-tank skid plate.

The commission said the cost of 1973 models will be no higher than the cost of similarly equipped current models.

The commission also formally suspended general price hike requests from the big four until after hearings on auto prices set to begin Sept. 12.

Boys will wear socks at all times. Boys' hair must be neatly trimmed at all times. When the building principal decides that a boy's hair style is a health or safety hazard or an undue distraction in the classroom, the boy will be given 24 hours to modify his hair style; after which, he will be suspended from class until his hair style is modified.

Excessively long, shoulder length hair will be considered unacceptable and students will be required to modify such a hair style. Neatness and good grooming will be stressed. All hair styles will be expected to be well-groomed.

ADDITIONAL RESTRICTIONS

In the various shop classes where hazards exist, students may be required to wear hair nets over excessively long hair styles. In addition, certain clothing and foot apparel must be excluded. Class instructors will advise students of these additional rules.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Long Island firm has been fined $50 for permitting blue paint to pollute the Maumee River in Toledo.

New Method Used To Spot Female Hemophilia Carriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Case Western Reserve University researcher says a new method has been developed that offers a 95 per cent chance of spotting female carriers of hemophilia, as compared with only 25 per cent accuracy with present ways.

Hemophilia is a hereditary blood malady that strikes only men but is transmitted by women. It is characterized by a defect in the body's blood-clotting mechanism.

Dr. Oscar D. Ratnoff of the Cleveland institution told a news conference here Thursday the new method involved the combining of a new detection technique, developed by himself and Dr. Theodore Zimmerman of Case Western, with an older method.

The older method measures the degree to which clotting is produced when plasma from normal human blood is added to a sample of plasma from a possible carrier. Ratnoff said this test is hampered by individual blood variations among both normal people and carriers.

A special anti-serum derived from rabbits first injected with a blood component called anti-hemophilic factor is used in the new technique. It provides a supplement to the clotting test.

The greater accuracy in detecting women who are risks in transmitting the malady gives them an opportunity for counseling to help them decide about having a family, he said.

There are an estimated 100,000 female carriers in the United States, while up to 20,000 American men have the disease.

Airline Officials Say Algeria Bearing Down On Hijackers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two airline officials who brought home from Algiers $1 million in recovered ransom Thursday say there are encouraging signs the Algerian government may be considering a stiffer attitude toward hijackers seeking refuge there.

The ransom was paid to five persons who identified themselves as members of the Black Panthers and who hijacked a Miami-bound Delta Air Lines jet on July 31. Three children were with them.

The Delta officials told a news conference at Dulles International Airport that they dealt directly with Algerian government representatives.

By contrast, representatives of Western Air Lines, when recovering $50,000 hijacked to Algeria in June, dealt mainly with officials of the government-owned airline, Air Algerie.

"This would indicate some official recognition of the problem," said Shelby Dement, Delta's vice president for marketing administration.

"We expressed our concern about the extortion and other criminal actions and said that unless this could be stopped there would be more of it."

"They did not commit themselves, but we got the impression that the Delta hijackers were not given official sanctuary."

Eugene H. Stewart, a Delta security officer, said they couldn't tell whether the hijackers were still in custody. "But there was some speculation that the hijackers have outstayed their welcome."

Dement said that as far as persuading Algeria to return the hijackers for trial in the United States, "we leaned as hard as we could under the circumstances."

"They agreed it was a bad situation and there has to be a way to stop it," but "would not give a commitment that the hijackers would be returned or that they would change their policy," he said.

Nixon Likes Campaigning

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon obviously is enjoying his return to the campaign circuit. He seems to be joking more in public.

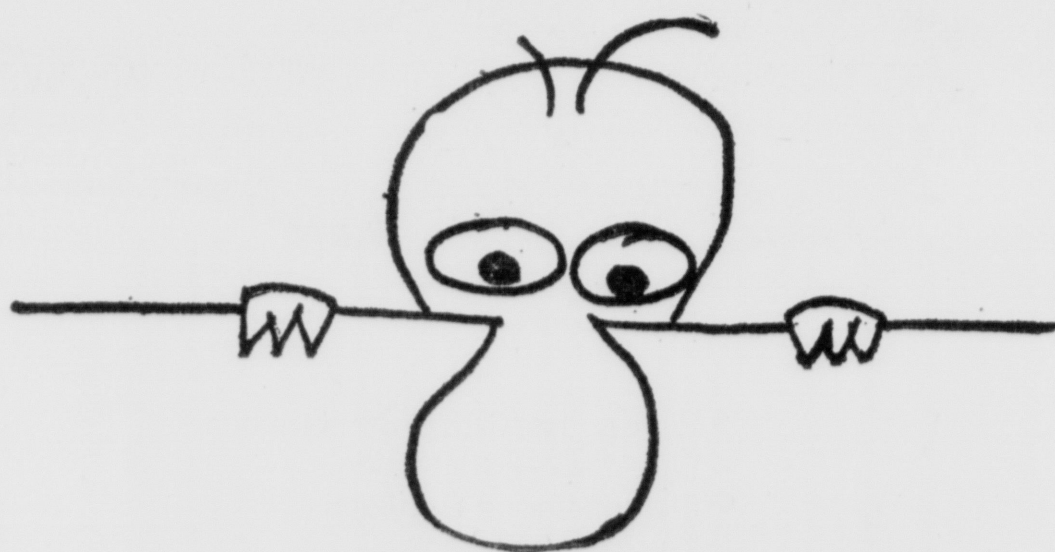

After dedicating a high school route here, he was so pleased with his reception from a largely teen-age audience that he summoned newsmen and told them, "After that I'm for reducing the voting age to 12."

Later, at an airport rally in San Diego, entertainer Art Linkletter told Nixon, and an audience of several thousand, that he had dined with Mrs. Nixon Sunday night and Monday morning in Miami Beach while the President was at Camp David in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains.

"I just want to keep the record straight," Nixon interjected. Referring to Linkletter, he said:

"He has also slept in the White House. He slept in the Queen's Room. When Pat's room is being painted or anything, she sleeps there, so we can say that Art Linkletter has slept in Pat's bed."

The officials said they learned that the five hijackers tried to smuggle $300,000 of their extortion loot into Algeria by hiding it in their clothing and on their bodies.

"They had quite a session about this," Stewart said. "An accurate count has been made, and the hijackers did not get away with any of the money."

Dement said they went to Algiers thinking they were invited to discuss the situation and unaware they were going to get the money back.

ETERNAL GUARDIAN — Dan, a mastiff who was highly prized by his master and mistress, George W. and Hannah Brown, rests in eternal vigilance at their feet in the Fernwood Cemetery near Lockbourne. The dog's figure, sculpted from life, stands on a granite base and bears its name. Its creator, reported to be E. F. Anderson of Circleville, carved the dog for a price of $600 before Brown's death in 1909. The money would have been a large amount for the time, but the couple owned much land in Madison Twp. and had no children to succeed them.

IN REPOSE — Dan rests only in statuary at his owners' gravesite. His death fell between that of George and Hannah, in 1909 and 1911, and the widow buried him in the back yard of her home, now the main house at the Gregory Trailer Park on Harrisburg-Fairfield Road.

Stone Mastiff Guards Couple's Cemetery Plot

In the quiet of a cemetery very near Pickaway County's northern border, rests a large mastiff dutifully guarding the graves of his master and mistress.

Carved true to life in gray stone, the animal lies quietly, but ever watchful, at the foot of the graves.

Dan, as the inscription on its back states, was the much loved pet and companion of George W. Brown, a migrant here from New York, and Hannah Miller Decker Brown, a native of the Madison Twp. in which they lived together.

Hannah was married at the age of 20 to John Decker, described as "a man of high integrity and much business ability." He died in December 1875 after 25 years of marriage, leaving his Hannah the land he had received as an heir of an earlier Decker who had been given a large amount of land in that township in an original land grant as payment for his services in the Revolutionary War. Title to those lands was first received in 1804 by the Decker ancestor.

Upon the death of John, and with no sons or daughters to receive any portion of the estate, the entire parcel went to his widow.

In 1877, she remarried, choosing George Brown, a veteran of the Civil War, as her second and final mate. They also had no heirs, so the estate was passed on to a close family friend, Mary Logston.

Mickey Rooney Seeks Custody Of Children

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — While Mickey Rooney told a judge he wants "with all my heart" to have custody of his four children by his fifth marriage, his third wife was filing a petition claiming unpaid alimony from the actor.

Rooney told Superior Court Judge Mario Clinco on Wednesday that he had been living "a Christian life" with his seventh wife in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he wants to take the children.

School Busing Decision Delayed By Appeals Court

CINCINNATI (AP) — A massive desegregation plan for Detroit area schools will not be implemented when classes open Sept. 6 because of deliberations on an appeal before the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The plan issued June 14 by U.S. District Court Judge Stephen J. Roth of Flint, Mich., involves metropolitan Detroit and 52 suburban school districts. It would have involved the busing of 40,000 students across district lines this fall. The appeals court also let stand, pending a decision on the appeal, Judge Roth's order that the State of Michigan purchase 295 buses to implement the desegregation plan this fall. Judge Harry Phillips said a delay in the decision would be necessary because "of the size of this record and complexity of the issues involved." There was more than three hours testimony Thursday.

Officials said such cases normally take as much as eight weeks to prepare. Arguments were presented by attorneys for the Detroit School Board, the suburban districts involved, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which brought the suit that led to Roth's busing plan, and the State of Michigan.

The court's delay in action followed the guidelines established in law signed by President Nixon July 1, although Circuit Judge George Edwards sharply questioned a federal official about the statute.

Pat Nixon Given Bouquet In Speech

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP) — President Nixon tossed a verbal bouquet to his wife during his acceptance speech Wednesday night.

Reading from his prepared text, he congratulated party and convention officials who helped plan the convention. Then he ad libbed congratulations to "the best campaigner in the Nixon family — my wife Pat."

Anchor Chain Helps Forest Grow

QUEBEC (AP) — Anchor chain originally intended for a Canadian destroyer is being used to grow forests in Ontario.

Twenty-foot lengths of chain are dragged by tractors across waste land where trees have been harvested for newsprint and other forest products.

To each 76-pound link is welded a long heavy tractor pin, which churns the soil up over the surface mat of old pine needles and forest debris.

This helps put the jackpine seeds in direct contact with soil so they will germinate. If the seeds stayed on top the nonsoil mat, they could not germinate and produce a new forest.

In the mid-19th century, California's Imperial Valley was a waterless wasteland "not worth a dollar," according to Daniel Webster. A canal from the Colorado River brought irrigation in 1901, and the valley's year-round harvest now brings $250 million.

ETERNAL GUARDIAN — Dan, a mastiff who was highly prized by his master and mistress, George W. and Hannah Brown, rests in eternal vigilance at their feet in the Fernwood Cemetery near Lockbourne. The dog's figure, sculpted from life, stands on a granite base and bears its name. Its creator, reported to be E. F. Anderson of Circleville, carved the dog for a price of $600 before Brown's death in 1909. The money would have been a large amount for the time, but the couple owned much land in Madison Twp. and had no children to succeed them.

IN REPOSE — Dan rests only in statuary at his owners' gravesite. His death fell between that of George and Hannah, in 1909 and 1911, and the widow buried him in the back yard of her home, now the main house at the Gregory Trailer Park on Harrisburg-Fairfield Road.

Stone Mastiff Guards Couple's Cemetery Plot

In the quiet of a cemetery very near Pickaway County's northern border, rests a large mastiff dutifully guarding the graves of his master and mistress.

Carved true to life in gray stone, the animal lies quietly, but ever watchful, at the foot of the graves.

Dan, as the inscription on its back states, was the much loved pet and companion of George W. Brown, a migrant here from New York, and Hannah Miller Decker Brown, a native of the Madison Twp. in which they lived together.

Hannah was married at the age of 20 to John Decker, described as "a man of high integrity and much business ability." He died in December 1875 after 25 years of marriage, leaving his Hannah the land he had received as an heir of an earlier Decker who had been given a large amount of land in that township in an original land grant as payment for his services in the Revolutionary War. Title to those lands was first received in 1804 by the Decker ancestor.

Upon the death of John, and with no sons or daughters to receive any portion of the estate, the entire parcel went to his widow.

In 1877, she remarried, choosing George Brown, a veteran of the Civil War, as her second and final mate. They also had no heirs, so the estate was passed on to a close family friend, Mary Logston.

Mickey Rooney Seeks Custody Of Children

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — While Mickey Rooney told a judge he wants "with all my heart" to have custody of his four children by his fifth marriage, his third wife was filing a petition claiming unpaid alimony from the actor.

Rooney told Superior Court Judge Mario Clinco on Wednesday that he had been living "a Christian life" with his seventh wife in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he wants to take the children.

Anchor Chain Helps Forest Grow

QUEBEC (AP) — Anchor chain originally intended for a Canadian destroyer is being used to grow forests in Ontario. Twenty-foot lengths of chain are dragged by tractors across waste land where trees have been harvested for newsprint and other forest products. School Busing Decision Delayed By Appeals Court

CINCINNATI (AP) — A massive desegregation plan for Detroit area schools will not be implemented when classes open Sept. 6 because of deliberations on an appeal before the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The plan issued June 14 by U.S. District Court Judge Stephen J. Roth of Flint, Mich., involves metropolitan Detroit and 52 suburban school districts. It would have involved the busing of 40,000 students across district lines this fall. The appeals court also let stand, pending a decision on the appeal, Judge Roth's order that the State of Michigan purchase 295 buses to implement the desegregation plan this fall. Judge Harry Phillips said a delay in the decision would be necessary because "of the size of this record and complexity of the issues involved." There was more than three hours testimony Thursday. Officials said such cases normally take as much as eight weeks to prepare.

Arguments were presented by attorneys for the Detroit School Board, the suburban districts involved, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which brought the suit that led to Roth's busing plan, and the State of Michigan.

The court's delay in action followed the guidelines established in law signed by President Nixon July 1, although Circuit Judge George Edwards sharply questioned a federal official about the statute.

Pat Nixon Given Bouquet In Speech

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP) — President Nixon tossed a verbal bouquet to his wife during his acceptance speech Wednesday night. Reading from his prepared text, he congratulated party and convention officials who helped plan the convention. Then he ad libbed congratulations to "the best campaigner in the Nixon family — my wife Pat."

football team is getting ready for its opening game against Amanda-Clearcreek on Sept.

8. Stant reports practices have been going well and he is looking forward to a good season.

LE Coach Looks For Good Season

"Our strength this year should be depth, size and power, but we lack speed," says Logan Elm head football coach Bob Stant after a week of practice with pads. "I'm looking forward to a good season."

Stant has 45 candidates including 13 lettermen and eight of those lettermen have plenty of varsity experience.

Of the 45 candidates, 15 are freshmen, nine sophomores, eight juniors and 13 seniors. The lettermen are: Brian Barr, Steve DeBruin, Gary Francis, Rod Howard, Greg Justus, Randy Kneec, Brad Luckhart, Brent Luckhart, John Mead, Chris Pane, Dan Ramey, Steve Sargent and Mike Williams.

Stant has a new staff of assistant coaches. Stan Wilamowski is the defensive coach and Dave Little works with the offensive line. Stant concentrates on the offensive backs. Also helping with the early practices is Steve Barney, freshman coach.

There have been some pleasant surprises this year for Stant and one of those surprises is the way some of the kids have grown.

His front line, not including the split end, will average 194 pounds. Right now his leading contenders for the line are:

Doug Marshall, a 194 pound senior out for football for the first time and a pleasant surprise for his punting ability; Mike Williams, a 189-pound veteran senior tackle and co-captain of this year's squad; Steve DeBruin, 192-pound senior guard, a stalwart on defense last year who will see 2-way action this year; Chris Payne, a 197-pound sophomore who lettered at center as a freshman; Dan Ramey, 193-pounder switched from fullback to guard; Mart Fullen, a junior tackle with some experience who trimmed down from 215 pounds a year ago to 198 pounds this year.

Derek Morris will get the call at split end. A sophomore, he tips the scales at 133 pounds. The backfield has good experience. Steve Sargent, a junior, returns at quarterback where he played all nine games last year. Running backs are Gary Francis, an elusive senior and Greg Justus, a hardnosed sophomore. The fullback is converted lineman Randy Kneec, also a senior.

Although not an exceptionally big backfield, these four do have good size. Sargent weighs 160 pounds, Justus 170, Francis 155 and Kneec 174.

DEFENSIVELY the Braves have Brian Barr, a 177-pound sophomore at one end and Marshall at the other. Tackles are Williams and Fullen and Ramey is the middle guard. Linebackers are DeBruin and sophomore Brian Herron, a 175-pound transfer from Circleville. Cornerbacks are Justus and Francis and the halfbacks Rod Howard, 155-pound senior, and Terry Crumley, a 149-pound junior out for the first year.

Depth will be provided by John Mead at guard, Chuck Arledge, 246-pound tackle, Rick Vanover, split end and defensive back and Stew Jones, who Stant says "will play a lot of football somewhere for us." Ed Ferguson, a junior guard and the Luckhart brothers.

Freshmen who show a lot of promise and will help the squad are: Wayne Linthicum, a running back built like a fireplug; Bob Sargent, a quarterback who already runs the offense nearly as well as his brother Stant says; Steve Rawlins, another back, out right now with a broken collar bone. Jeff Reichelderfer, an end and Seth Dresbach, a tackle.

Rawlins' injury is the most serious to date, according to Stant although there have been the usual assortment of twisted ankles, bumps and bruises.

"Injuries killed us last year and we are doing everything we can to avoid them this year," the coach reports. Practices have been real good he reports, but the staff has been spending a lot of time working on the individual parts of the game and have not "put the whole game together yet."

Only two pre-season scrimmages have been scheduled by the coach because he wants "an extra week to get ready for Amanda-Clearcreek."

The Aces lost their quarterback of a year ago, Dave Kraft, but could be one of the top three teams in the Mid State League according to reports Stant has received. That game is scheduled Sept. 8.

The next tuneup for the Scioto Valley Conference schedule is Jonathan Alder on Sept. 15.

"The first two games will be the real test for us," Stant believes. If his Braves can turn in a good performance in the openers, he feels they will do well in the league.

The SVC should be a little more balanced but not quite as strong at the top, Stant says. Adena is his pre-season pick to be the team to beat. "Although they lost a lot of kids, they still have some good ones coming back."

The other teams — East Clinton, Zane Trace, Westfall, Union, Paint Valley, and Piketon — could be right in the race or at least determining factors.

The first scrimmage is Saturday morning at Liberty Union and the second Aug. 30 in the early evening against Berne Union at Logan Elm.

"We are not playing the scrimmages with the intent of 'winning' them, but rather to get a good look at what our kids can do," the coach says. He has already planned the plays he hopes to use in the scrimmages and hopes to stick with he plays regardless of the "game situation" in the scrimmages.

The Braves will run from an I formation this year and will use a standard Oklahoma 5-4 defense.

Here is the complete schedule:

Sept. 8 Amanda-Clearcreek
Sept. 15 at Jonathan Alder
Sept. 22 at Westfall
Sept. 29 East Clinton
Oct. 6 at Zane Trace
Oct. 13 Piketon
Oct. 20 at Adena
Oct. 27 at Union
Nov. 3 Paint Valley

Saturday's final will be about the closest you can come to a rematch of the 1971 finale without matching the same teams. Last year, Taiwan won the championship 12-3 over Gary, Ind., a neighboring city to Hammond.

Hammond Manager, Peter Vargulich sensed his starting pitcher, Robbie Clark, might tire on the hot day. After the team shot into its big lead, he told Clark to take it easy if he got on base.

That plan didn't work, as Clark circled the bases in the first, second and fourth innings, the only member of his team to score three times. He had a double, was safe on a fielder's choice and was hit by a pitch.

Cincinnati Receives Hockey Franchise

CINCINNATI (AP)—A new, 15,000-seat riverfront arena here moved a step closer Thursday night when the National Hockey League announced that Cincinnati will get a franchise in the league's next expansion.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, made the announcement at the meeting of the board of governors in Toronto. He did not say when the franchise would begin play, but he said the city should begin building as soon as possible for completion in two years.

Quarterback Loss Hurts Cowboys

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — "Every week is Super Bowl week when you play as champion."

That's the week-by-week obstacle the Dallas Cowboys, champions of the national Football League, face this season, and Coach Tom Landry knows it well.

"We have to realize that each team we play will make us prove we're world champions," Landry said.

Landry has perhaps the best material in the NFL to accomplish his goal of a third straight trip to the Super Bowl, but a big question looms: Can the Cowboys get there without both Roger Staubach and Duane Thomas?

Staubach, sidelined with a shoulder separation in the Cowboys' exhibition game with Los Angeles, has vowed to return by late November.

Meanwhile, Craig Morton, who took the club to the Super Bowl in 1970, is in the saddle.

Morton, bothered by arm trouble in the past, says, "I'm throwing as well now as I ever have."

The Cowboys obtained Jack Concannon from Chicago as backup quarterback insurance.

Meanwhile, Landry is keeping a close eye on the other veterans to see if they are showing signs of slowing down.

"We'll be watching carefully for that one lost half-step," Landry says. "You never know when age is going to slow a player down."

Landry has young players groomed at almost every position, but it's unlikely they'll see much action.

Pat Toomay looms as a possible replacement for George Andrie at defensive end. Andrie has been bothered by back trouble. Toomay and Andrie split time at the position last year.

The Cowboys are deep at running back, despite the departure of Thomas to San Diego.

Fullback Walt Garrison proved his clutch ability against Miami in the Super Bowl and tough rookie Robert Newhouse and Claxton Welch give depth at the position. Running back belongs to Calvin Hill and Mike Montgomery, obtained from San Diego in the trade for Thomas.

The receivers include Bob Hayes, Ron Sellers, Lance Alworth, and Billy Parks at the wide posts, with Mike Ditka and Billy Truax at tight end shuttling the plays for Landry.

The offensive line of Coach Jim Myers is solid with the return of left tackle Ralph Neely, who suffered a broken leg last season.

Guards Blaine Nye and John Niland are tremendous run blockers and all-pro right tackle Rayfield Wright can handle any defensive end in the league. Dave Manders is a dependable center.

The Domsday Defense should again give quarterbacks across the league the shakes. All-pro tackle Bob Lilly, tackle Jethro Pugh, end Larry Cole, and the Andrie-Toomay duo don't give a quarterback long to look for that secondary receiver.

Linebackers Chuck Howley, an all-pro, Dave Edwards and Lee Roy Jordan are tested veterans. Cornerbacks Herb Adenle and Mel Renfro team with safeties Cornell Green and Cliff Harris for an excellent secondary.

The placekickers are Mike Clark and Toni Fritsch, two good performers.

You look at the Dallas roster on paper and figure there's only one way they can be beaten—that's to beat themselves.

Bench, Reds Stomp Montreal; Win 6-0

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Look out, Joe Torre. Your switch from catcher to third baseman may be catching on.

Torre, who blossomed into a full-fledged superstar when he gave up his chest protector and shin guards, may have given Johnny Bench, already a superstar, some ideas. Cincinnati's slugger showed up at third base for the Reds Thursday and tagged his 29th homer of the year in a 6-0 victory over Montreal.

That was the only game played in the National League Thursday. In the American League, Texas split a doubleheader with Milwaukee, winning the first game 4-1 but dropping the nightcap 4-3.

"It's tough to catch every day," said Bench. "The bat gets heavy after awhile. I find it easier if I can play in the field. It's almost like a rest for me."

The rapid development of rookie catcher Bill Plummer has enabled Manager Sparky Anderson to let Bench work elsewhere in the lineup. Mostly, the Cincinnati slugger has been in right field but he switched to third base Thursday and handled two chances including a bunt flawlessly.

The same couldn't be said of the Expos, who committed three errors to make it easy for the Reds and Jack Billingham, who tossed a six-hitter. It was the second straight shutout for the veteran right hander and evened his season's record at 10-10.

The Rangers scored three unearned runs in the first inning of the opener the last two on a misjudged fly ball which fell for a triple by Tom Grieve. Frank Howard homered and Elliot Maddox contributed three singles to the Texas attack. Mike Paul and Pete Broberg combined for the six-hitter.

In the nightcap, Dave May clubbed a two-run homer, tying the score for the Brewers and then beat out an infield single in the eighth inning to deliver the winner.

Dalton Jones' bases-loaded double drove in all three Texas runs.

Jurgensen, Kilmer Boost Washington Win Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington Redskins Coach George Allen has a quarterback problem—and the other teams in the National Football League are hoping he solves it soon.

Allen's problem is deciding on a starting quarterback—Billy Kilmer or Sonny Jurgensen? Jurgensen is the 15-year veteran, a former NFL passing champ who holds numerous NFL records and ranks as the league's premier lifetime passer.

Kilmer, meanwhile, is the 10-year veteran who came to the Redskins last year and, when Jurgensen suffered a preseason shoulder injury, stepped right in and led the Redskins to a postseason playoff berth.

In order to decide on a starter, Allen has been letting Kilmer work the first half of each of Washington's preseason games, with Jurgensen handling the second half.

And the results have been nothing less than spectacular. Washington has won all three games played thus far, and won them with ease—33-3 over Baltimore, 41-0 over Denver and 34-10 over Philadelphia.

Kilmer has completed 21 of 41 passes for 294 yards and five touchdowns. Jurgensen has sit on 15 of 23 for 245 yards and four TDs.

All of which means the Detroit Lions, Washington's opponents in tonight's nationally televised exhibition game, figure to have their hands full.

In tonight's only other exhibition contest, the Miami Dolphins host the Atlanta Falcons.

In Thursday night's single game, Houston's Dan Pastorini passed for three touchdowns as the Oilers beat St. Louis 33-24.

The Cardinals scored on a one-yard run by Jim Hart, two TD passes by Gary Cuzzo to Ara Person and Don Heater and a Jim Bakken field goal. But Pastorini hit Ken Burrough for 28 yards, Dennis Hughes for seven and Rhett Dawson for 12, all for touchdowns. Charlie Joiner and Lloyd Walsh also ran for Houston tallies.

Oiler second-year quarterback Lynn Dickey dislocated his left hip in the first quarter. There was no immediate word on how long he would be lost to the team.

Five games are scheduled for Saturday. In the only day contest, Buffalo plays Oakland at Berkeley, Calif. In night action, the New York Jets are at Dallas for a nationally televised game, Minnesota is at Cleveland, Pittsburgh meets Baltimore at Tampa, Fla. and San Diego is at New Orleans.

In Sunday's two day games, Denver is at San Francisco and the New York Giants are at New England. Sunday night, it's Los Angeles at Kansas City for a nationally televised game and Chicago against Green Bay at Milwaukee.

Muskingum finished the season with a 1-8 record last year and Coach Al Christophers will be relying on his sophomores, ten of them last year's letterman, to carry the load this season.

The remainder of the schedule follows: Sept. 23, at Baldwin-Wallace; Sept. 30, Heidelberg; Oct. 7, Ashland; Oct. 14, at Findlay; Oct. 21 at Otterbein; Oct. 28 Denison; Nov. 4, at Ohio Wesleyan; Nov. 11, Marietta.

GETTING READY — Under the watchful eye of coach Bob Stant (right) the Logan Elm football team is getting ready for its opening game against Amanda-Clearcreek on Sept. 8.

Stant reports practices have been going well and he is looking forward to a good season.

Stant reports practices have been going well and he is looking forward to a good season.

LE Coach Looks For Good Season

"Our strength this year should be depth, size and power, but we lack speed," says Logan Elm head football coach Bob Stant after a week of practice with pads. "I'm looking forward to a good season."

Stant has 45 candidates including 13 lettermen and eight of those lettermen have plenty of varsity experience.

Of the 45 candidates, 15 are freshmen, nine sophomores, eight juniors and 13 seniors. The lettermen are: Brian Barr, Steve DeBruin, Gary Francis, Rod Howard, Greg Justus, Randy Kneese, Brad Luckhart, Brent Luckhart, John Mead, Chris Pane, Dan Ramey, Steve Sargent and Mike Williams.

Stant has a new staff of assistant coaches. Stan Wilamowski is the defensive coach and Dave Little works with the offensive line. Stant concentrates on the offensive backs. Also helping with the early practices is Steve Barney, freshman coach.

There have been some pleasant surprises this year for Stant and one of those surprises is the way some of the kids have grown.

His front line, not including the split end, will average 194 pounds. Right now his leading contenders for the line are:

Doug Marshall, a 194 pound senior out for football for the first time and a pleasant surprise for his punting ability; Mike Williams, a 189-pound veteran senior tackle and co-captain of this year's squad; Steve DeBruin, 192-pound senior guard, a stalwart on defense last year who will see 2-way action this year; Chris Payne, a 197-pound sophomore who lettered at center as a freshman; Dan Ramey, 193-pounder switched from fullback to guard; Mart Fullen, a junior tackle with some experience who trimmed down from 215 pounds a year ago to 198 pounds this year.

Derek Morris will get the call at split end. A sophomore, he tips the scales at 133 pounds.

The backfield has good experience. Steve Sargent, a junior, returns at quarterback where he played all nine games last year. Running backs are Gary Francis, an elusive senior and Greg Justus, a hardnosed sophomore. The fullback is converted lineman Randy Kneese, also a senior.

Although not an exceptionally big backfield, these four do have good size. Sargent weighs 160 pounds, Justus 170, Francis 155 and Kneese 174.

DEFENSIVELY the Braves have Brian Barr, a 177-pound sophomore at one end and Marshall at the other. Tackles are Williams and Fullen and Ramey is the middle guard. Linebackers are DeBruin and sophomore Brian Herron, a 175-pound transfer from Circleville. Cornerbacks are Justus and Francis and the halfbacks Rod

Taiwan Faces Hammond For LL Crown

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Taiwan's team in the Little League World Series prepares for a baseball game the way Republicans plan their National convention: everything is worked out in advance.

There's no guarantee the other team will follow the script, but there was no deviation Thursday when Taiwan propelled itself into Saturday's final against Hammond, Ind.

Before their 9-1 victory over Pearl City, Hawaii, manager Lin Hsin-chang told his players:

"Try to exhaust the other pitcher. Wear him out. Just try to hit the ball."

The Asian youngsters did just that, pecking away for single runs in the first, fourth and fifth innings, and scoring twice in the second, third and sixth. However, of the team's 10 hits, only two were for extra bases — a home run by Chiang Fucheng and a double by Lin Chao-chin.

Pitcher Lin hurled a masterful game, allowing only one hit — a home run by Kirk Sato — and striking out 15. He fanned the side in three of the six innings.

Hammond reached the finals with its 10-7 triumph Thursday over San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The Indiana team jumped to a 10-2 lead, then held on while San Juan scored once in the fifth and added four runs in the sixth. Three of the sixth-inning runs came across on Eduardo Santos' home run.

Hammond Manager, Peter Vargulich sensed his starting pitcher, Robbie Clark, might tire on the hot day. After the team shot into its big lead, he told Clark to take it easy if he got on base.

That plan didn't work, as Clark circled the bases in the first, second and fourth innings, the only member of his team to score three times. He had a double, was safe on a fielder's choice and was hit by a pitch.

Saturday's final will be about the closest you can come to a rematch of the 1971 finale without matching the same teams. Last year, Taiwan won the championship 12-3 over Gary, Ind., a neighboring city to Hammond.

Stant reports practices have been going well and he is looking forward to a good season.

Cincinnati Receives Hockey Franchise

CINCINNATI (AP)—A new, 15,000-seat riverfront arena here moved a step closer Thursday night when the National Hockey League announced that Cincinnati will get a franchise in the league's next expansion.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, made the announcement at the meeting of the board of governors in Toronto. He did not say when the franchise would begin play, but he said the city should begin building as soon as possible for completion in two years.

Quarterback Loss Hurts Cowboys

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — "Every week is Super Bowl week when you play as champion."

That's the week-by-week obstacle the Dallas Cowboys, champions of the national Football League, face this season, and Coach Tom Landry knows it well.

"We have to realize that each team we play will make us prove we're world champions," Landry said.

Landry has perhaps the best material in the NFL to accomplish his goal of a third straight trip to the Super Bowl, but a big question looms: Can the Cowboys get there without both Roger Staubach and Duane Thomas?

Staubach, sidelined with a shoulder separation in the Cowboys' exhibition game with Los Angeles, has vowed to return by late November.

Meanwhile, Craig Morton, who took the club to the Super Bowl in 1970, is in the saddle.

Morton, bothered by arm trouble in the past, says, "I'm throwing as well now as I ever have."

The Cowboys obtained Jack Concannon from Chicago as backup quarterback insurance.

Meanwhile, Landry is keeping a close eye on the other veterans to see if they are showing signs of slowing down.

"We'll be watching carefully for that one lost half-step," Landry says. "You never know when age is going to slow a player down."

Landry has young players groomed at almost every position, but it's unlikely they'll see much action.

Pat Toomay looms as a possible replacement for George Andrie at defensive end. Andrie has been bothered by back trouble. Toomay and Andrie split time at the position last year.

The Cowboys are deep at running back, despite the departure of Thomas to San Diego.

Fullback Walt Garrison proved his clutch ability against Miami in the Super Bowl and tough rookie Robert Newhouse and Claxton Welch give depth at the position. Running back belongs to Calvin Hill and Mike Montgomery, obtained from San Diego in the trade for Thomas.

The receivers include Bob Hayes, Ron Sellers, Lance Alworth and Billy Parks at the wide posts, with Mike Ditka and Billy Truax at tight end shutting the plays for Landry.

The offensive line of Coach Jim Myers is solid with the return of left tackle Ralph Neely, who suffered a broken leg last season.

Guards Blaine Nye and John Niland are tremendous run blockers and all-pro right tackle Rayfield Wright can handle any defensive end in the league. Dave Manders is a dependable center.

The Doomsday Defense should again give quarterbacks across the league the shakes. All-pro tackle Bob Lilly, tackle Jethro Pugh, end Larry Cole, and the Andrie-Toomay duo don't give a quarterback long to look for that secondary receiver.

Linebackers Chuck Howley, an all-pro, Dave Edwards and Lee Roy Jordan are tested veterans. Cornerbacks Herb Adderley and Mel Renfro team with safeties Cornell Green and Cliff Harris for an excellent secondary.

The placekickers are Mike Clark and Toni Fritsch, two good performers.

You look at the Dallas roster on paper and figure there's only one way they can be beaten—that's to beat themselves.

Bench, Reds Stomp Montreal; Win 6-0

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

Look out, Joe Torre. Your switch from catcher to third baseman may be catching on.

Torre, who blossomed into a full-fledged superstar when he gave up his chest protector and shin guards, may have given Johnny Bench, already a superstar, some ideas. Cincinnati's slugging receiver showed up at third base for the Reds Thursday and tagged his 29th homer of the year in a 6-0 victory over Montreal.

That was the only game played in the National League Thursday. In the American League, Texas split a doubleheader with Milwaukee, winning the first game 4-1 but dropping the nightcap 4-3.

"It's tough to catch every day," said Bench. "The bat gets heavy after awhile. I find it easier if I can play in the field. It's almost like a rest for me."

The rapid development of rookie catcher Bill Plummer has enabled Manager Sparky Anderson to let Bench work elsewhere in the lineup. Mostly, the Cincinnati slugger has been in right field but he switched to third base Thursday and handled two chances including a bunt flawlessly.

Browns Eye Defensive Weakness

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, already weak in the defensive line, must now rely on two rookie tackles and utilityman Bob Briggs for backup help.

The Browns starting combo of ends Joe Jones and Ron Snidow and tackles Jerry Sherk and Walter Johnson is solid, but the depth of the front four has been hurt severely by the loss of end Jack Gregory who played out his option and was traded to the New York Giants, torn cartilage suffered by prize rookie end Lester Sims and the failure of veteran tackle Jerry Rush to work himself into shape.

Rush, obtained three weeks ago from the Detroit Lions, was waived Thursday along with second-year wide receiver Stan Brown from Purdue University.

The moves reduced the National Football League team's roster to 57 on the eve of Saturday night's exhibition clash with the powerful Minnesota Vikings at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

The Browns said Rush was cut because of his failure to reduce from 290 pounds to 260 pounds. Browns officials said Rush had only lost about 12 pounds and had started to regain some of it the past few days.

"He was showing no progress," said Coach Nick Skorich of the 6-foot-4 behemoth. "And we were running out of time."

The backup role at tackle now falls on 10th round choice Herschel Mosier of Northwest Oklahoma and free agent Fest Cotton of the University of Dayton.

Olympics To Start Saturday

MUNICH (AP) — Bavaria's festive capital welcomes the Olympic torch tonight as a relay runner from Greece jogs in to historic Koenigsplatz where Hitler plotted his course to infamy.

The 20th Olympic Games, a $1 billion undertaking of contemporary West Germany, becomes a reality Saturday with athletic teams of 122 nations marching into the 80,000 capacity Olympia Stadium.

On the eve of that opening ceremony, the Olympic torch, ferried by hundreds of runners from Olympia, Greece, will reach Munich to be received by Olympic officials and a likely international ovation from tourists and sports fans gathered in Koenigsplatz.

That monumental central square of neoclassic architecture was the site of the "Brown House" which served as Nazi Party headquarters at the time of Hitler's rise to power in 1933.

It was also the scene of the signing in 1938 of the Munich Pact, the ill-fated agreement to guarantee what Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of England called "peace in our time."

When the pomp and pageantry fades into the cool Bavarian night, the 10,000 athletes in Olympic Village will be poised to match their skills for 195 gold medals in 22 sports.

Don Zimmer, new manager of the San Diego Padres in the National League, formerly managed minor league teams at Knoxville, Buffalo, Indianapolis, Key West and Salt Lake City.

Black Hawks Want Hull Kept Quiet

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks want to keep Bobby Hull from making public statements about their current contractual battle and from lending his name to promotion of the Winnipeg Jets.

Arthur Morse, Black Hawk attorney, asked U.S. District Court Thursday for a temporary restraining order muzzling Hull.

Penn State Seeks Repeat Of East Grid Wins

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — On Dec. 4, 1971, Eastern football was reeling when Penn State's Lambert Trophy champions had their perfect season soundly ruined by Tennessee 31-11.

On Jan. 1, 1972, however the Nittany Lions struck a blow for Coach Joe Paterno, one of Eastern football's most vocal spokesmen, with a 30-6 whumping of Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

That impressive triumph shot the Lions up to No. 5 in the final Associated Press ranking of the nation's teams and, while they may be hard-pressed to wind up that high this fall, they are nonetheless solid favorites to capture their fifth Lambert Trophy in six years.

Not the least of Penn State's assets is Paterno, who has compiled a brilliant 53-11 record in six seasons.

Despite the return of John Hufnagel, whom Paterno calls the best quarterback in the country, the Lions' forte likely will be a solid defense headed by seven holdover starters, including end Bruce Bannon and linebacker John Skorupan.

Offensively, Paterno must replace three superstars—running backs Lydell Mitchell and Franco Harris and tight end Bob Parsons. John Cappelletti, an outstanding freshman runner two years ago and an occasional starter on defense in '71 will get a shot at replacing the record-breaking Mitchell. Tom Donchez, the Cotton Bowl starter, is in line to succeed Harris.

Don't expect any tears for Penn State, especially from Syracuse, which nurtured national championship hopes last season, only to lose 24 player at one time or another to injury.

Star defensive tackle Joe Ehmman banged up a knee in he '71 opener and didn't play after that. Wingback Greg Allen, who gives the Orangemen their best outside speed in years, sat out the entire campaign with hepatitis. Both are back, along with a veteran backfield featuring hard-running Marty Januszkiwicz and Roger Praetorius. Two other teams casting a covetous eye at the Lambert are West Virginia and Boston College.

West Virginia won't lack for offense with Bernie Galiffa throwing to Harry Blake and handing off to Kerry Marbury. The Mountaineers also get 10 defensive regulars back.

At Boston College, 9-2 a year ago but left out of the bowl picture, Coach Jot Yukica feels the offensive potential is there but must rebuild the defense around star tackle Jeff Yeates.

The service academies will be improved. Army, however, must withstand a schedule that lists Nebraska, Texas A&M and Penn State among the first four opponents, but Kingley Fink, a fine passer, and outstanding defensive end Steve Bogosia will give it a try.

Navy has its annual killer schedule but returns all of 1971's defensive starters, including standouts in linebacker Chuck Voith, tackle Glen Nardi and safety Charlie Robinson. Larry Van Loan is one of the nation's better receivers.

Fast-rising Temple has had two good years under Wayne Hardin and the Owls might surprise everybody this time. Quarterback Doug Shoberl completed a nation-leading 62.8 per cent of his passes in '71 and sets up behind a line featuring guard Bill Singletary.

Seevn road games will make things tough for Colgate but the leading scorers, rushers, passers and receivers are all back, led by quarterback Tom Parr. Frank Polito, the country's interception leader, is back to pace Villanova's defense but the offense is inexperienced and lacks a proven quarterback.

Pitt has an abundance of running backs and quarterback Bob Medwid to run the newly installed wishbone offense but both lines are full of holes. Despite the return of quarterback Leo Gasienica and running back Jim Jennings, Rutgers has neither speed nor depth.

The Ivy League wound up in a tie between Cornell and Dartmouth and co-champions—or even tri-champs—wouldn't shock anyone this fall. Dartmouth, with 15 starters back, is among the favorites, along with Harvard, which took most of the season to absorb Coach Joe Restic's wide-open motion offense, and Columbia, improving steadily under Frank Navarro.

Yale has star running back Dick Jauron, who'll be joined by a batch of good-looking sophomores. Cornell is optimistic despite the loss of all-time ground-gainer Ed Marinaro.

Tribe Sets 11-Game Road Trip

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "We'll know where we belong the next time we see the Stadium," said Cleveland Indians manager Ken Aspromonte as the club embarked on an 11-game, 13-day road trip.

The trip began Thursday night with an exhibition contest with the club's Triple-A club in Portland, Ore., and moved on to Anaheim today where the Indians begin a weekend series with the California Angels with Dick Tidrow, 11-11, slated to face Clyde Wright, 14-6, in the opener tonight.

The Indians, riding the crest of a five-game winning streak, are just 6 1/2 games behind the first-place Detroit Tigers in the five-team American League East pennant chase. The Tribe has won 21 of 31 games since the All-Star break to come from 14 1/2 games back. They have 38 contests remaining.

"Let me say this carefully," said Aspromonte, "because I don't want to add any pressure to the situation, but I've got to be honest."

"This is a very, very important trip for us. When he get back home again (Sept. 6) — a twilight doubleheader against Milwaukee, we'll either be a pennant contender ... or we'll have found our notch."

After the three-game set with the Angels, Cleveland takes on Oakland and Minnesota three times each and then faces Detroit twice.

Browns Eye Defensive Weakness

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, already weak in the defensive line, must now rely on two rookie tackles and utilityman Bob Briggs for backup help.

The Browns starting combo of ends Joe Jones and Ron Sni-dow and tackles Jerry Sher-k and Walter Johnson is solid, but the depth of the front four has been hurt severely by the loss of end Jack Gregory who played out his option and was traded to the New York Giants, torn cartilage suffered by prize rookie end Lester Sims and the failure of veteran tackle Jerry Rush to work himself into shape.

Rush, obtained three weeks ago from the Detroit Lions, was waived Thursday along with second-year wide receiver Stan Brown from Purdue University. The moves reduced the National Football League team's roster to 57 on the eve of Saturday night's exhibition clash with the powerful Minnesota Vikings at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

The Browns said Rush was cut because of his failure to reduce from 290 pounds to 260 pounds. Browns officials said Rush had only lost about 12 pounds and had started to regain some of it the past few days.

"He was showing no progress," said Coach Nick Skorich of the 6-foot-4 behemoth. "And we were running out of time."

The backup role at tackle now falls on 10th round choice Herschel Mosier of Northwest Oklahoma and free agent Fest Cotton of the University of Dayton.

Olympics To Start Saturday

MUNICH (AP) — Bavaria's festive capital welcomes the Olympic torch tonight as a relay runner from Greece jogs into historic Koenigsplatz where Hitler plotted his course to infamy.

The 20th Olympic Games, a $1 billion undertaking of contemporary West Germany, becomes a reality Saturday with athletic teams of 122 nations marching into the 80,000 capacity Olympia Stadium.

On the eve of that opening ceremony, the Olympic torch, ferried by hundreds of runners from Olympia, Greece, will reach Munich to be received by Olympic officials and a likely international ovation from tourists and sports fans gathered in Koenigsplatz.

That monumental central square of neoclassic architecture was the site of the "Brown House" which served as Nazi Party headquarters the time of Hitler's rise to power in 1933.

It was also the scene of the signing in 1938 of the Munich Pact, the ill-fated agreement to guarantee what Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of England called "peace in our time."

When the pomp and pageantry fades into the cool Bavarian night, the 10,000 athletes in Olympic Village will be poised to match their skills for 195 gold medals in 22 sports.

Don Zimmer, new manager of the San Diego Padres in the National League, formerly managed minor league teams at Knoxville, Buffalo, Indianapolis, Key West and Salt Lake City.

Chicago Black Hawks want to keep Bobby Hull from making public statements about their current contractual battle and from lending his name to promotion of the Winnipeg Jets.

Arthur Morse, Black Hawk attorney, asked U.S. District Court Thursday for a temporary restraining order muzzling Hull.

Penn State Seeks Repeat Of East Grid Wins

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — On Dec. 4, 1971, Eastern football was reeling when Penn State's Lambert Trophy champions had their perfect season soundly ruined by Tennessee 31-11.

On Jan. 1, 1972, however the Nittany Lions struck a blow for Coach Joe Paterno, one of Eastern football's most vocal spokesmen, with a 30-6 whoppling of Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

That impressive triumph shot the Lions up to No. 5 in the final Associated Press ranking of the nation's teams and, while they may be hard-pressed to wind up that high this fall, they are nonetheless solid favorites to capture their fifth Lambert Trophy in six seasons.

Not the least of Penn State's assets is Paterno, who has compiled a brilliant 53-11-1 record in six seasons.

Despite the return of John Hufnagel, whom Paterno calls the best quarterback in the country, the Lions' forte likely will be a solid defense headed by seven holdover starters, including end Bruce Bannon and linebacker John Skorupan.

Offensively, Paterno must replace three superstars—running backs Lydell Mitchell and Franco Harris and tight end Bob Parsons. John Cappelletti, an outstanding freshman runner two years ago and an occasional starter on defense in '71 will get a shot at replacing the record-breaking Mitchell. Tom Donchez, the Cotton Bowl starter, is in line to succeed Harris.

Don't expect any tears for Penn State, especially from Syracuse, which nurtured national championship hopes last season, only to lose 24 player at one time or another to injury.

Star defensive tackle Joe Ehm-mann banged up a knee in the '71 opener and didn't play after that. Wingback Greg Allen, who gives the Orangemen their best outside speed in years, sat out the entire campaign with hepatitis. Both are back, along with a veteran backfield featuring hard-running Marty Janusz-kiewicz and Roger Praetorius.

Two other teams casting a covetous eye at the Lambert are West Virginia and Boston College.

West Virginia won't lack for offense with Bernie Galfiffa throwing to Harry Blake and handing off to Kerry Marbury. The Mountaineers also get 10 defensive regulars back.

At Boston College, 9-2 a year ago but left out of the bowl picture, Coach Jot Yukica feels the offensive potential is there but must rebuild the defense around star tackle Jeff Yeates.

The service academies will be improved. Army, however, must withstand a schedule that lists Nebraska, Texas A&M and Penn State among the first four opponents, but Kingley Fink, a fine passer, and outstanding defensive end Steve Bogosia will give it a try.

Navy has its annual killer schedule but returns all of 1971's defensive starters, including standouts in linebacker Chuck Voith, tackle Glen Nardi and safety Charlie Robinson. Larry Van Loan is one of the nation's better receivers.

Fast-rising Temple has had two good years under Wayne Hardin and the Owls might surprise everybody this time. Quarterback Doug Shobert completed a nation-leading 62.8 per cent of his passes in '71 and sets up behind a line featuring guard Bill Singletary.

Severn road games will make things tough for Colgate but the leading scorers, rushers, passers and receivers are all back, led by quarterback Tom Parr. Frank Polito, the country's interception leader, is back to pace Villanova's defense but the offense is inexperienced and lacks a proven quarterback.

Pitt has an abundance of running backs and quarterback Bob Medwid to run the newly installed wishbone offense but both lines are full of holes. Despite the return of quarterback Leo Gasienica and running back Jim Jennings, Rutgers has neither speed nor depth.

The Ivy League wound up in a tie between Cornell and Dartmouth and co-champions—or even tri-champs—wouldn't shock anyone this fall. Dartmouth, with 15 starters back, is among the favorites, along with Harvard, which took most of the season to absorb Coach Joe Restic's wide-open motion offense, and Columbia, improving steadily under Frank Navarro.

Yale has star running back Dick Jauron, who'll be joined by a batch of good-looking sophomores. Cornell is optimistic despite the loss of all-time ground-gainer Ed Marinaro.

Princeton lost heavily to graduation.

Penn has had two good freshman classes and should improve if Don Clune can come anywhere near his Ivy pass-catching mark of '71. Brown has plenty of running backs but a hopeful 1971 wound up an 9-9 disaster when the Bruins kept losing the close ones.

Tribe Sets 11-Game Road Trip

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "We'll know where we belong the next time we see the Stadium," said Cleveland Indians manager Ken Aspromonte as the club embarked on an 11-game, 13-day road trip.

The trip began Thursday night with an exhibition contest with the club's Triple-A club in Portland, Ore., and moved on to Anaheim today where the Indians begin a weekend series with the California Angels with Dick Tidrow, 11-11, slated to face Clyde Wright, 14-6, in the opener tonight.

The Indians, riding the crest of a five-game winning streak, are just 6 1/2 games behind the first-place Detroit Tigers in the five-team American League East pennant chase. The Tribe has won 21 of 31 games since from 14 1/2 games back. They have 38 contests remaining.

"Let me say this carefully," said Aspromonte, "because I don't want to add any pressure to the situation, but I've got to be honest.

"This is a very, very important trip for us. When he get back home again (Sept. 6 — a twilight doubleheader against Milwaukee), we'll either be a pennant contender ... or we'll have found our notch."

After the three-game set with the Angels, Cleveland takes on Oakland and Minnesota three times each and then faces Detroit twice.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE

OF REAL ESTATE

Under the authority of and pursuant to the terms of the Last Will and Testament of Alice R. Brown, deceased, the undersigned, Carl C. Leist, Executor of the Estate of said Alice R. Brown, will offer for sale at public auction on the 18th day of September, 1972, commencing at 1:30 o'clock P.M., at the front door of the Pickaway County Court House, Circleville, Ohio, the following described real estate:

Parcel 1:
Situating in the County of Pickaway, in the State of Ohio and in the Township of Circleville (now City of Circleville) and bounded and described as follows: Being Lot Number Forty-Five (45) in the Charles Isaac Subdivision as recorded in Plat Book No. Three (3), Page 349, Pickaway County Recorder's Office subject, however, to the following restrictions: The same shall be used for residential purposes only and no dwelling house shall be erected thereon at a cost of less than $3500.00.

Being part of the premises described in the deed from Charles Isaac et al to Cecil C. Van Camp, dated September 24, 1951, and recorded in Deed Book 141, Page 492, in the Recorder's Office of Pickaway County, Ohio.

Being the same premises conveyed to Paul B. Brown and Alice R. Brown by Cecil C. Van Camp, unmarried, by deed dated June 1, 1952 and recorded in Pickaway County Ohio Deed Records Volume 143 at page 336.

Being also part of the same premises conveyed to Paul B. Brown and Alice R. Brown by The Brown Building Company by deed dated December 30, 1958 and recorded in Pickaway County Ohio Deed Records, Volume 143 at page 336.

The above described Tract 1 is appraised in the inventory in the estate of decedent at $3500.00 and can not be sold for less than two-thirds of its appraised value.

Tract 2:
Situating in the County of Pickaway, in the State of Ohio and in the Township of Circleville (now City of Circleville) and bounded and described as follows: Being Lot Number Forty-Six (46) in the Charles Isaac Subdivision as recorded in Plat Book No. Three (3), Page 349, Pickaway County Recorder's Office subject, however, to the following restrictions: The same shall be used for residential purposes only and no dwelling house shall be erected thereon at a cost of less than $3500.00.

Being part of the premises described in the deed from Charles Isaac et al to Cecil C. Van Camp, dated September 24, 1951, and recorded in Deed Book 141, Page 492, in the Recorder's Office of Pickaway County, Ohio.

New books recently received at the library provide an interesting pot pourri of titles which will appeal to many kinds of readers. "Midsummer Masque" by Jill Tattersall is the story of Rowena Manville. Rowena accepts a position as companion to an elderly widow in an English mansion. The setting is south England in the early 1800's. Witchcraft and murder should make this fast reading Gothic appeal to "Dark Shadows" fans. In "The Athelstons" by Jocelyn Kettle, fifteen-year-old Justine Athelston arrives at the estate of Clere Athel unprepared to face its ancient challenges. Anne Tyler in the "Clock Winder" also writes of a young girl and her involvement with the Emersons, an eccentric Baltimore family. Elizabeth, a twenty-year old college dropout takes a job as handyman to the Emerson family. The interrelationships are sympathetically and convincingly developed in a believable environment.

"Golding's Tale" by Mark Rose is a fictionalized account of the disastrous final voyage of Sir Walter Raleigh setting sail for South America in 1617. Raleigh is faced with mutiny, loss of ships, and even the death of his own son. These facts provide the framework of this tale, told by an imaginary survivor of the expedition. This ill-fated search for gold culminated in the execution of Raleigh. Evelyn Anthony has written a suspenseful novel, "The Poelberg Inheritance" which links the decadence of Nazi Germany to the present. Paula Stanley sets out on a desperate search to find the father she believed dead. He is thought to have in his possession a gold and jeweled art piece by Cellini called the Poelberg. Sat. Paula is joined in her search by Eric Fisher, a private detective, hired by a wealthy German matriarch who also claims the jewelled piece. The search leads through deceit and murder before the shocking truth about Paula's father and the Poelberg inheritance is revealed.

The time of Derek Lambert's "The Red House" is the critical summer of 1968. A Russian diplomat who has been sent to Washington as secretary of the Soviet Embassy finds that his loyalty to his government and family is being severely tested. The reverse situation is the theme of Mary Elizabeth Witherspoon's "The Morning Cool" when Congressional committees begin to investigate un-American activities. Maggie Cole initiates a personal search into her husband's life and death which brings her into the limelight.

Those who feel that protest and dissent are limited to the American scene may be interested in the non-fiction "Uncensored Russia. Protest and Dissent in the Soviet Union." The book has been edited and translated by Peter Red-daway from a privately printed Moscow journal of dissent. The Chronicle of Current Events is a kind of Russian counterpart to the more radical United States underground press. The Chronicle has appeared twice monthly since April 1968. The typed and retyped editions are circulated from hand to hand. The Chronicle reports to the Russian people the news that the Kremlin seeks to hide and distort. The book includes photographs which are smuggled out of Russia. Two new books should have appeal for sports fans. One, "Great Moments in Auto Racing" by Irwin Stambler depicts the thrills, danger, color and heartbreak of auto racing. There are many action photographs, some in color. In the second, Jackie Stewart and co-author Peter Manso provide a penetrating look into the politics and dangers of big time auto racing in "Faster: A Racer's Diary."

Storms Rake Wide Areas Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy thunderstorms walloped parts of the central and southern Plains Thursday night and early today, unleashing soaking rains, high winds and occasional hail.

A severe thunderstorm watch remained in the predawn hours in sections of Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and Missouri.

A storm centered over Oklahoma spawned hail up to an inch in diameter at Lake Perry, Mo., and caused the Republican River in southwest Kansas to begin rising above its banks, with the possibility of flash floods.

A tornado was sighted at Pittsburg, Kan., but did not touch down.

Wind velocity reached 86 miles an hour at Tulsa, Okla., 58 miles an hour at Oklahoma City and 45 miles an hour at Kansas City, Mo.

An inch or more of rain soaked Concordia, Topeka and Chanute, all in Kansas, and almost an inch fell in Oklahoma City.

A few isolated showers dotted the mountain areas of the West and the Far West, cool Pacific breezes push into the interior lowlands in most areas except the arid Southwest where temperatures remained in the 80s.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 39 at Laramie, Wyo., to 91 at Needles, Calif.

White And Red Russians Duel For Mideast Property

By MICHAEL GROSS

Associated Press Writer

JERUSALEM (AP) — The fight between the Whites and Reds of Russia is still going on in Jerusalem.

Both sides maintain churches in the holy city.

The Soviet Ecclesiastical Mission, with about 100 nuns and a few priests, has been based since 1948 in a compound and the Church of St. John the Baptist in a Jewish suburb. One of the nuns, the Soviets say, is 102 years old.

The White Russian—the Russian Orthodox Church in exile—comprise about 150 nuns and priests mostly based in a gold-domed church on the Biblical Mount of Olives.

Now the church split, dating back to the 1917 Russian Revolution, has become an issue in Israel's law courts.

Israel became involved when it captured old Jerusalem in the 1967 Middle East war.

"Don't make waves was the password" said Saul Colbi, director of Christian affairs for Israel's Ministry of Religion.

The White Russian demanded that Israel recognize their claims to holy places in Jewish Jerusalem. These, according to the head of the anti-Soviet Orthodox Church, Archimandrite Anthony Grabbe, "we were forced to turn over to the avowedly atheistic Soviet government mission in 1948."

According to Colbi, the story is different.

"The Whites were staunchly pro-Arab. When they foresaw Israel's imminent takeover of West Jerusalem in 1948, they fled to the Arab sector.

"When the official Soviet mission requested the properties, they were turned over and on Dec. 31, 1948, the first batch of priests arrived from Moscow," Colbi said.

The White Russians have petitioned the government for return of the properties in West Jerusalem.

The government declined the request and shunted it into the courts, where it has remained for the past four years.

The disputed properties include seven churches, half a dozen tracts in Jerusalem and about 10 more pieces of land throughout the country. Together, they are worth a fortune.

A fire unit stood by with water to dissipate the gas if it should begin escaping.

The tank car was one of seven that derailed Thursday night on a railroad overpass at Rodgers Avenue, Rodgers Avenue and another underpass down the track from the accident were closed. Police expected some traffic tieups as morning rush hour traffic began moving.
